Valparaiso. No expense has been spared in a lopting the latest improvements i Steam-ship Building, and it is believed that these vessels combine, in an uncommon degree, the qualities essential for passenger purposes, while, at the same time, they contain ample provision for the carriage of norchandise.

The speed of the Steamers comprising their fleet, is expected to exceed the average of any other line of Atlantic Steamers, and from the fine model of the vesses, and the uniformity in their build, coupled with great steam power, regular and swift passages are anticipated.

The Vessels are divided into water-tight compartments, and every precaution is taken to ensure safety.

The SALOONS

Will be found to afford unusual space, the whole breadth of the ships being deviced to this purpose; they are light, lorry, well-ventilated, and lay shly furnished, whilst the requisities so necessary to the comfort of Passengers in the colder portions of the year, are amply provided by an extensive arrangement of hot-water pipes and capacious fire-grates. Being placed amid-ships, the saloons are removed from the noise and motion experienced in the after part of the vessel The splendid Steamship TROPIO.

To the Editors of the STANDARD, Gentlemen.

the enclosed copy of a letter which I handed to Mr. Moore to-day. This Gentleman in reply to my letter in formed me verbally that he could only say he must proceed officially, and could not on his account make the trial which I indicated. Mr. Moore also handed me a little plan in which it was shown that during the trial on Saturday last Tosca was from Ancon and Huacho, to Liverpool, lump sum excavated to about three feet depth. The plan was nicely made up, but the buckets have nevertheless not brought tosca, for, all those who were present know what tosca is-a material very different from gravel or mud. If the buckets had excavated three feet depth of tosca, as shown on Mr. Moore's plan, they would lift more than 16 tons of tosca, but those present at the trial China. have certified that the buckets came up practically empty, not bringing up Barbadoes, £8. during the whole operation more than, perhaps, one arroba of particles of tosca I remain,

The summary of the European reports per Cuzco is as follows-Liverpool, Oct. 29th-Hides at the momen are not easy to dispose of; stock is accumulating here, but not so on the Continent, where ox and cow hides are in demand. Holders here refused a cargo for that destination at 87 to 90 francs with 360 English emigrants on board. They There is no chance of selling here unless under 81 d. The wool market is very weak. > begins to-day. Antwerp Oct 29th-Hide have gone up franc for first class dry mat dero ox of B. Ayres as holders find a brisk demand and very small stock. All classes of hides are very firm; but horse hides are too abundant, and therefore somewhat difficult to move off. The auction of da maged hides on the 22nd was very satisfactory and high prices ruled. There is evary sign of a firm market till end of the year or longer.

The wool market is utterly paralyzed; the sales in 11 days hardly foot up 100 bales. This s chiefly owing to the poor result of the Havre auctions (22-25th inst.), where 11,000 bales were offered and only 3,823 obtained buyers at 15 or opposite Standard Court; whole sule realized 20 centimes under September prices, the market closing very feeble, especially for inferior descriptions. We have poor expectations of the next Antwerp auction (oth to 22nd Nov.) when 31,000 bales River Plate wool will be offered, and a fall equal to Havre probably show itself. Many think we are going to have a season of depression. Tallow is dull and floating cargoes unsold, un-

Tallow, no demand. Antwerp, Nov. 6th-The auction began yes considered a very high figure according to the terday, and wool marked a decline of 20 or 25 centimes, with r ason to fear that the fall would reach 30 centimes. These advantages have not hitherto been enoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in puting theirsavings out at interest, thus providing the nestves with a reserve fund in case of med incress, or old age, instead of spending them in mmoral gambling, in lotteries, and other immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres, and January, 1867.
