

American brigantine Mary Celeste. They further stated that at the time when they fell in with the derelict their own ship, the Dei Gratia, was on the port tack, the wind being from the north, while the Mary Celeste, with her fore and mainmast staysails set, was on the starboard tack, and also that the derelict was perfectly sound and that there was not the least apparent cause for her having been in herself extra-ordinary that the Queen's Proctor in the Admiralty Court, Mr. F. Solly-Flood, ordered a special survey of the vessel in the first instance on the 23d of December last by Mr. Austin, surveyor of shipping, and Ricardo Portinaturo, diver, accompanied by the Marshal of the Court, Mr. T. Vecchio. The result of this and a subsequent survey was, in brief, as follows:—1. As regards the cargo—It consisted of barrels marked as containing alcohol, all of which were well stowed and in good order and condition, except one which had been started. 2. As regards the water-tightness of the hull below the water-line—it did not exhibit the slightest trace of damage, nor was there any appearance that the vessel had come in collision with any other ship, nor that she had struck on any ground or rock, nor in short, that she had sustained any injury whatever, the hull, the copper with which it was covered, the stem, sternpost, and rudder being all in good order and condition. 3. As regards the interior of the ship—a very minute survey showed most clearly that not only had the vessel not sustained any accident, but that she could not have encountered any seriously heavy weather. The whole of the hull, masts, and yards were in good condition, and the pitch in the water-ways had not started, which must have been the case had any bad weather been experienced. The deck-boards, made of thin planking and 6 ft. in height above the deck, was perfect, there not being a crack in the planking nor even in the paint. The seaman's chests and the clothing found on board were perfectly dry, some razors even being quite free from rust. Moreover, a small phial containing oil for use with a sewing machine was found in a perpendicular position, which, together with a thimble and a reel of cotton discovered near it, had not been upset, as must have been the case if the ship had been subject to any stress of weather. Spoons, knives, and other articles of furniture were also found in their proper places and uninjured by water, the music and other books being also dry. Finally, the conclusion arrived at by the surveyor, Mr. Austin, is that there exists no apparent reason why the vessel should have been abandoned. But, in addition to the above facts, a sword was discovered which, on its being drawn out of its scabbard, exhibited signs of having been smeared with blood and afterwards wiped; further, in the top-gallant rail had marks on it, apparently of blood, and both boxes of the vessel had been cut, in all appearance intentionally, with some sharp instrument. No bills of lading nor manifest was found on board. The pilchets found in the captain's cabin were of considerable value and proved that a lady and a child had been on board. The ship's log, which was found on board, showed that the last day's work of the ship was on the 24th of November, sea-time, when the weather allowed an observation to be taken which placed the vessel in lat. 36° 36' N., long. 27° 20' W. The entries on the slate log were, however, carried on up to 8 a. m. on the 25th, at which time the vessel passed from W. to E. to the north of the island of St. Mary's (Azores), the eastern point of which at 8 a. m. bore S. 85° W., six miles distant. The distance from the Mary Celeste to the island of St. Mary's is 75 1/2 miles, and the corrected distance of the latitude from the log is 1° 18' N., so that the vessel apparently had held on her due course for 10 days after the 25th of November, the wheel being loose all the time. But the log of the Dei Gratia shows that during the time from the 25th of November to the day when she met the Mary Celeste, the 25th of December, the wind was more or less from the north, and that she was on the port tack during the whole of that period. It appears, therefore, almost impossible that the derelict should have compassed within the same time a distance of 75 1/2 E. at all events on the starboard tack, upon which she was met by the Dei Gratia, and the obvious inference is that she was not abandoned until some days after the last entry made in the log. Naturally, various theories are set up to account for this extraordinary series of facts, and the finding of the sword and the blood stains are held to point to some deed of violence. Be this as it may, the fact remains that up to the present date not a word has been heard nor a trace discovered of the captain or the crew, or the lady and her child. The captain, B. S. Briggs by name, is well known in Gibraltar, and bore the highest character. It can only be hoped that by giving the utmost publicity to the circumstances some light may be thrown upon this, at present, most mysterious case.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Let every man in town who has any pretensions to be called a Christian remember the Christian Young Men (and women) to-day. These excellent gentlemen's concert in aid of the fund to purchase a Life Boat comes off this evening. See the programme and go, we say to all. Nothing particular yesterday morning, but the arrival of the Colina from Glasgow, to the eminent firm of Wadgate Bros. This steamer came direct, giving Brazilian ports and Montevideo a wide berth, she consequently escaped the quarantine nuisance, for which we hope her passengers, owners and agents are sufficiently grateful. She brings English letters to the 1st and Lisbon letters to the 6th, a précis of which will be found in another column. The meeting called for Tuesday last at the Irish Convict in Calle Rio de Bambu, to appoint gentlemen to fill the vacancies in the number of Trustees for the Convict, attracted a large attendance of Irishmen from the camp and city. The object of the meeting was carried unanimously. Mr. Michael Duggan and Mr. Thomas Gahan being appointed as the new trustees. The proceedings included a warm vote of thanks to the Rev. Lady Superiores, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, for the admirable manner in which the Convict and Hospital under her charge are managed. We shall publish the minutes of the meeting when favoured with them by the Secretary. The weather was simply delightful yesterday—pure, fresh air, blue sky, moderate sun, streets clean from Monday's rain, no smells, and Standard barometer rising. Weatherwise folk confounded death of news this fever has created. "That it all" as Mrs. Brown (and probably Mrs. Robinson also) says. Mr. Hahnemann has been recognized as United States Consul in Paysandú. We commend the tale "A Mystery of the Sea," in another column, to our readers' perusal. It is the most wonderful story of the kind our scissors have ever fallen across. Bullrich's tremendous action on Sunday and Monday next, at the Colón Theatre, will be the tallest thing of the kind ever presented on any stage. Don Adolfo declares that "all the world's a mart, and all the men and women merely buyers," and has promised to send us his address to the players—bidders, we mean. Bullrich is the most out and out Shakespearean for an actor, we have ever had the pleasure of knowing. The news by the Colina is rather fishy for the newly-fledged Spanish Republic. The Carlist army is now 35,000 strong, a rather stiff figure. Fine old Spain is not out of the wood yet, that's clear. The intelligence from the rest of the world is, like Revalenta Arabia, infinitely warkish. Russia is going into Khiva, and even Dr. Cumming can't say when she will be thinking of coming out, unless the Khan kicks her out, which is possible, but not at all probable. Many a Cossack of the Don and Ukraine will bite the dust before this "little war" is over. The ex-President of Paraguay, Mr. Rivarola, is on his way to Buenos Ayres, and is expected to arrive in a day or two. His native political air does not agree with him, and he has been recommended to change it. The following will interest ladies who are in the habit of minding their own business, viz., looking after their household. Some horrid beast has said that generation of females passed away half a century ago—"A new system of washing has been largely adopted in Belgium and Germany, by which the injurious effects of soda on linen are avoided. Two pounds of soap are dissolved in about three gallons of hot water, a teaspoonful of turpentine and a couple of ounces of ammonia are then added. The mixture is to be well stirred, and the linen steeped in it for two or three hours. The vessel that contains the liquid is to be closed as carefully as possible. The clothes are afterwards washed out, and rinsed in the usual way. The same liquid may be used over again by simply adding the above proportions of turpentine and ammonia at each operation. The smell of the turpentine entirely disappears during drying, and the articles are not in the least injured by this novel process." Marker score a good whack for the new Colina! She has made one of the finest runs in the Platine region, and "taken the coal off the pipe" of the Colina, which came in yesterday with "one day sooner," her dates being to the 5th of March from Lisbon, and the Colina touches the 6th, and also brings the cheering intelligence from Rio that the yellow fever is declining there, only twenty daily deaths from it being registered. The Colina has done her duty, and we congratulate Captain Marr and the agents on her brilliant, maiden trip. The question now is, is Marr an Irishman? We fear that "Caledonia stern and wild" has indisputable claims to him. Still at it! The Mercenario and Capital of Rosario are still fighting to each other with tooth and nail. The flood commences to subside about 3 o'clock p. m., and thanks to the truly extraordinary exertions of Mr. Crabtree and his able staff, communication from the Retiro to the Tigre was resumed at 5 o'clock p. m.; and on Tuesday morning the first train ran through as usual from the Central station. The oldest inhabitant (he is 97 1/2) cannot remember the river to have risen so rapidly, but it is also to be remarked that it fell with equal suddenness. A charitable subscription is being raised in native circles for the victims of the terrible inundations in Santiago and Tucuman. Thousands of families in those provinces have been ruined by the floods, and the agents are one that calls for a hearty response from all who are blessed with affluence, and even for the mite of the poorer classes. The great Satsuma and his son and heir take their benedict to-night at the Colón Theatre. The performance announced for the occasion is simply prodigious. A new egg trick which would puzzle Old N. himself to make out will be produced for the first time. The pantomime "El Encanto" will also be performed. A meeting of Directors of the Saint Patrick's Society is called for this evening at No. 48, R. conquista. Sir Bruce Cliechester, Bart., has arrived from Ensenada, having passed quarantine there. He has come out on a shooting tour to the Plate. The scene at Ensenada on Monday during the flood was something of a sight. Ladies in quarantine had to go to dinner in morning dress and boots, some in waggons, and others being carried. "Parbleu! How they got back has not transpired. Water, water, water! nothing but water at Ensenada on Monday night. The devastation of Glatton might have sailed up the principal street. Nothing like it ever seen or heard of before. The Rev. Mr. Vaughan, brother to the new Bishop of Liverpool, has arrived in Buenos Ayres on a most important mission. The reverend gentleman's object is to obtain the sanction of the Government and ecclesiastical authorities to publish in Spanish an approved edition of the New Testament, and a short treatise on his own views on the prevailing doctrines of the age, with refutations of them. The Chilean Government approves so highly of the Rev. Mr. Vaughan's project that it has subscribed for 10,000 copies of each work, to be used in the public schools; and we have no doubt, the enlightened Minister of Worship and Instruction of this Republic, Dr. Avelandrea, will deem it right to adopt a similar course. The splendid steamer Melencamp—usually called the Many Laws—sails this day with a full complement of passengers and cargo. The accommodation on board this steamer is superb, and her passengers are certain to have a fine time of it, the captain being quite as accomplished and courteous a host as a clever seaman. We are obliged through pressure on our space to hold over the statement of the escaped emigrants to Paraguay till our next issue. We are happy to say that the woman has obtained emancipation in the city. General Bathurst-Mitro leaves for Paraguay on his Special Mission to-day. The Brazilian Minister, Baron Arago, will leave on Saturday. General Mitro expects to be absent about three months. Judicial Joke—In Judge M'Arthur's court, in Washington, the other day, a lawyer called the judge's attention to the fact that a certain case had been upon the docket for a decade. "I know it," said the judge, "but the case has not been decided."—New York paper. We continue the publication of Mr. H. G. MacDonnell's Report to the British Foreign Office to-day, and also refer to it in our leading column. The fever news from the Home was worse yesterday. The "segmenta" was tampered the disease, yet many are remaining enough to opine that before another fortnight the pest will have faded, and the patients be open without quarantine, and the "little families" be themselves again. We hope so. We don't feel at all like ourselves from the confounded death of news this fever has created.

tantous. "He wretched man was clerk in the eminent firm of Duguid & Co. The Flores and B.A.C. cricket match on Tuesday ended in the triumph of the former. The Lomas men (37th of the B.A.C. team) were gorgeously got up, and looked like victory or death, but the girls of the "village of the plain" mustered in force and encouraged their champions to a decided victory. We will publish the score to-morrow. From Cordoba there is little news. A cry against shop keepers exhibiting their wares hanging over their doors has been raised in consequence of an old lady being "knocked kicking" by a heavy pair of stirrups coming down on her venerable cranium. The Chamber of Deputies of the province has passed the Bank Law. No more news from Cordoba. The trains did not start on Tuesday. People were afraid of being washed clean into "Kingdom come," if they were caught out in one of the floods so frequent of late; so they stopped at home, hating and being hated till bed-time. An excellent addition was made in the programme at the Colón Theatre on Tuesday, 25th inst., in the shape of a pantomime. We never remember seeing anything of the kind equal to it here before. From the beginning to the end of the piece there was nothing but roars of laughter from every part of the house. Each character was first-rate, that of the Englishman (or what we presumed to be such) being quite unique. It brought to our mind our boyish days, when as Christmas came round we were taken by our parents and mas. to see what young and old delighted in—a good pantomime. The Japanese in this have certainly made a good hit, and we trust to see that or another piece of the kind repeated. If we might be allowed to offer this successful company an idea of our own, it would be to give on some occasion a representation of their manners, customs, &c., not only something amusing but also instructive might be exhibited. To judge from the few words we've heard of their mother tongue alone, we are sure a comic recitation in their language would be, if not intelligible, at least entertaining. "THE IRON POT." Plaza Lorea, March 24, 1873. "A rose by any other name 't is still as sweet." Mr. Editor, The Iron Pot or Kettle in presenting his compliments to you, Mr. Editor, is most happy to inform you that you made a most grievous error in speaking of him in your impression of Sunday as he is, and has been since his election in Mr. Plaza Lorea, a most thorough state of convalescence, spite of the many execrations, loud and deep, uttered against him by those who may wish for his downfall. Perhaps I may be excused suggesting that if every "Iron Pot" did its duty as well, even as I have done, we might not have so much to complain of in Buenos Ayres at the present time. What say you, Mr. Editor? Yours very truly THE IRON POT AND TOWER IN PLAZA LOREA. ON 'CHANGE. March, 26th, 1873. The telegram to the Holca this afternoon respecting the fever caused a most painful feeling of disappointment, as, according to the Club telegram and other messages, we had been all led to believe that since Sunday no fever cases had occurred. The news from Rio, however, is good—the cases have fallen to 24 only. Mr. Milligan, of the leading firm of Milligan and Williams, was welcomed on Change to-day. Mr. M. has been absent about four years, and looks younger to-day than when he left. Captain Marr was developed in brokers and friends when he quitted on Change, having made one of the quickest runs out to the Plate on record—183 days. We give at foot a copy of the Colina's log on this memorable trip. Exchange was dealt in at 48 1/2, 48 1/2, and 48 1/2; one bank passed a large amount at 48 1/2. This exchange is for Euro. The Montevideo telegram gave:—Bordeaux, E. Girardin. Rotterdam, Handrick. Pernambuco, Bot'Jesus. Rio, Jose Maria. Produced the same, 2 beef cargoes sold at 12 1/2, 14, 14 1/2, New York, 27 1/2 cents. Wool 27. 14 fewer cases yesterday and 7 to-day. Nothing doing in business. Progress 54 1/2, exchange 81. The latest from Antwerp the following:—Antwerp, 5th March, 1873. Wool very dull. Hides, good post. Follow, v r flat. The fall in Montevideo stocks is very sharp, and felt here. Home Debt, worth a few days ago 7 1/2, now 6 1/2; and Extraordinary Debt 70, now 65. Captain Moon, of the Asia, was welcomed on Change to-day. The Asia will leave on the 5th prox, sailing direct. She will have a full cargo. The sale of 1800 arr. hair, good mazzela, in deposit, was effected at 180 m. The great sale of the day was 8 leucenas of land, with some 4000 sheep and a small number of cattle, for the round sum of 250,000 mps, giving an average of 200,000 mps per sq. league of land and in fee. A Majica seller, Sr Lopez Bayet, the property is in the partido of Lincoln, and adjoining the Spragons estancia. The lands are known on the topographical map as—Terenos Colinas, 3 leagues. The land is 50 m. long. The Government price for this land is 70 m. per league. A very important sale of an Argentine mine, on the London market, is spoken of. I was present on Change to-day by an English merchant to get up a protest against Mr. MacDonnell's report on the R. Plate. The auction of a part of the Whitefish quita came off to-day with the following result:—1st. Lot 123 to Calle Larga by 10 foms with house 310,000 (the house was lately occupied by Mr. Gilbey). 2nd. Lot 29 fronting Calle Larga by 60 quita 7,000 m. casa finca, 110,000 m. 3rd. Lot 20 to Calle Larga by 55, 5,100 m. casa finca. 4th. Lot 20 to Calle Larga by 55, 5,100 m. casa finca. 5th. Lot 20 to Calle Larga by 55, 5,100 m. casa finca. 6th. Lot 20 to Calle Larga by 55, 5,100 m. casa finca. These lots sold very cheap and yet the prices gave about 3 millions per cuadra. The R. land auction at Flores was postponed, as no bid being sold by private sale at a very high figure. The fine Glasgow steamer Colina passed Montevideo on Monday night, and entered port on Tuesday. She made a capital run out, and brings her own mail. We saw into Captain Marr, and congratulated him upon so splendid a trip. The Colina's dates are to 4th inst. We understand that Mr. Donaldson, one of the owners of the Colina, and who sailed on the 11th. The flood tide subsided on Monday afternoon, greatly to the relief of the Boca and Harnacas population. Mr. Crabtree, with indefatigable zeal, put on large gangs of navies, and had his men running at 5 p. m. The flood it has done us no damage, and some of the property holders state that for the last fifteen years they have not seen so much water over the Boca petrasas as on Monday. The east-mouse epists were nundated. The Colina has brought London papers of 1st March, and Lisbon papers of 6th March, being a day later than the Cuzco. We extract the following comm. of advices from the London papers of 1st inst.—Close of the Market. "The English Funds are less firm, Consols being 92 1/2 for money and 93 1/2 for account. The New and Reduced Three per Cents. 92 1/2 to 3. "The Foreign Stock Market is dull, but without any very important change in prices. Paraguay (1872) Bonds, however, have risen 1 per cent, and Portuguese 3/4, at 60 to 68 and 39 1/2 to 40 1/2, respectively. Honduras (1870) have declined 1/2 at 23 1/2 to 41, and Spanish 3/4 at 23 1/2 to 41. "The Java, from New York, has arrived with 230,712 in specie. "The Tiger has reached Lisbon from Brazil with £2,405 in specie. "It is rumored that the payment of the composition of 16s. in the pound to the creditors of Messrs. Pacion and Co. will commence very shortly, probably next week. "A preliminary meeting of the creditors of Messrs. Felix Docenas and Co., of Manchester, was held yesterday. The statement of affairs showed liabilities £25,000 and assets £6,150. A committee of five of the principal creditors was appointed to investigate and to consider any offer of composition, and to report to the statutory meeting. "The Foreign Stock Market is generally flat, especially for the French and Spanish Stocks, on the less favourable character of the news from France. French Scrip has declined 1/2 per cent., being at 6 1/2 to 7 1/2, and some of the other stocks are 1/2 to 1 lower. Turkish continue firm. Argentine Six per Cent. (1871) 96 to 7. "The re-examination of Joseph Javier Lizard, merchant, on the charge of having obtained £12,000 by means of false pretences, from Messrs. Gills, Mills, Currie, and Co., was appointed to take place at the Mansion House, before the Lord Mayor, to-day. The defendant had been admitted to bail in the sum of £12,000 in two sureties, and himself in like amount. On his being called, he did not appear. Mr. Lewis, who represented the sureties, said that, to their great surprise, it had come to their knowledge that the defendant had absconded. He could assure his lordship that the bail had acted in perfect good faith, and were quite unconnected with the defendant's affairs. They had offered a reward for the defendant's apprehension, and they would do all they could to assist the officers in bringing the defendant to justice. If therefore he hoped that a bailship would not extend the recognisances until a month had expired, Mr. Poland, who appeared to prosecute, hoped the Lord Mayor would not listen to any appeal. The bail were fully aware of the serious nature of the charge against the defendant, and they ought to have taken steps to have secured his attendance. The Lord Mayor said, believing in the statement made by the counsel for the defendant that there was a complete answer to the charge, had induced him to admit the defendant to bail. The gentlemen who were sureties must have known the great responsibility attached to them, and they ought to have taken measures to have kept the defendant in view in this country. He, therefore, should give the necessary instructions to treat the recognisances, and also at once issued his warrant for the re-apprehension of the defendant. The Colina's dates from Lisbon are rather than the Cuzco's telegrams, and bring news from London by telegram of the 6th March. The Elvo entered Lisbon on the 4th with 22 boxes of specie, £25,000 remitted by Rothschild to Spanish credit, also, £10,000 to Louisiana Bank, and £10,000 to London and Brazilian Bank. The Elvo has 23 passengers for the Plate. The Chilean steamer Cuzco, also entered Lisbon on the 4th with 16 passengers on board for the Plate, and left on the 5th. The White Star steamer Asiatic left Lisbon 2 hours before Colina for the Plate. The Colina has brought out a good cargo and 28 passengers. Mr. John Donaldson and family have arrived in her. Mr. Patrick, of the Banda Oriental, has also come in her; and several families for the Liebig fabric. The passage as far as Lisbon was stormy, but from there to Cape Frio fine, and from there to Montevideo heavy out-casters and high seas. The latest telegrams from London per Colina are to 6th March, 10 a. m., and as regards market advices are the same as per Cuzo. The affair in Madrid passed off quietly, no fighting in the streets. The Cuzco has brought the following news which came by telegram to the club:—Lisbon, 5th March, 1873. Bank rate the same. Cotton down. Large business in hides at Havre to arrive. Antwerp and Hamburg markets firm. New York, 3rd March, gold 114 1/2, exchange 108 1/2. Rio, 22nd March, exchange commercial 27. Bank rate 25 1/2, looking upwards. Fever diminishing in Rio, only 20 per day yesterday. It was said on Change that the Cuzco had brought down the American mail from Rio, but there comes no certainty about this. The Portefa leaves to-night for the Mont; it seems she goes on a special charter for the Cuzco's passengers. On Monday night the New's passengers came up by rail from Ensenada. It seems that the high tide so flooded the Lazzaretto that the passengers had to be liberated a day before the time fixed. The whole country about there was under water, and the experiences of the passenger in getting to town were not varied. The Banco Hipotecario notifies mortgagees that the interest on their mortgages, Series A, B, C, and D, must be paid from 31st inst. to 6th prox. This is important. The French mails closed for the Rio Grande to-day, and that steamer cleared this afternoon. The flood tide on Monday rose to an unusual height; although it covered the patio and street around it, it did not reach within 2 feet of the floor of Mr. Younger's barraca or garçones. This did not come within 10 inches of the great crocodile of 1866. In 1843, and close on every six years since 1819, 1856, 1869, 1866 and 1872, there have been three crocodiles; therefore, on these floods now stand safe till 1879. We find samples of the wood sold this morning in the South market at 95 m. c. Great price in present state of market. On Sunday the 5:45 p. m. train from Marcos Paz was without lights from Merlo to Moran. How is this, Mr. Huerzo? Said train arrived at the Parque 1/2 behind time. Amongst the passengers per Nueva is Sir Bruce Cliechester, Bart., who proposes spending a month in the Plate and having a look at the country. The Menzies did not get away to-day. She leaves to-morrow and will take a good number of passengers. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, there was a pause in the auction business on Tuesday. Some small sales were effected, but nothing of any importance.

Tuesday. She made a capital run out, and brings her own mail.

The Municipality has just levelled another edict at quarantine passengers, as things look in this regard so much more favorable to-day than on Monday. It is possible that soon quarantine will be a thing of the past and all the River Plate ports free again. "The Republic with General Mitro leaves for Asunci in the morning, the Brazilian Minister Baron de Azevedo will follow in a few days; the mission will probably hold for 2 or 3 months. Messrs. Sanford & Co. proposal to supply National Government with Nickel Coin was again before Government to-day, and we are happy to say that according to the Bolsa opinion the business will be done and that this city supplied with the best and cheapest and most convenient small coin.
