

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

LIFE'S VALUE DOUBLED.—With a dis-

TEATRO COLON

GRAN COMPANIA LIRICA ITALIANA.

Teatro de la Opera.

COMPANIA LIRICA ITALIANA Y DE BAILE.

POLIUTO

Victoria Theatre.

Compagnie Dramatique Francaise

COURTNEY & SANDFORDS

European Circus

STARTLING NOVELTIES.

EVERY NIGHT

River Plate Telegraph Company.

Latest Telegrams

MOSSON'S EFFECTUAL REMEDIES

PURSE CHEMICALS AND NEW MEDICINES

THE LETTERS OF THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION

THE LETTERS OF THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION

THE LETTERS OF THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION

THE LETTERS OF THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION

THE LETTERS OF THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION

THE LETTERS OF THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION

LIVERPOOL, BRAZIL, AND RIVER PLATE STEAMERS.

MESSRS. LAMPORT AND HOLT'S LINE

RIVER PARANA LINE.

HAIRBY, Commander.

MONDAY, 9th JUNE.

Articles for the approaching Season.

YARROW'S PECTORAL STRUP

AYER'S CHEMICAL PECTORAL

WHOLESALE & RETAIL

BOTICA CRANWELL

FOR SALE.

Photographic Warehouse

EMILIO POTIGNET,

ENGLISH CONTROL SERVICES

ST JOHN'S CHURCH.

AL Comercio.

A mis Amigos,

The Standard.

Special Telegrams

CHILLAN TELEGRAM.

COOK.

LETTERS.

The amnesty has been sanctioned.

Hamburg, Karmack.

INAUGURATION OF THE SAINT PATRICK'S SOCIETY'S READING ROOMS.

Last Thursday evening will long be remembered by the Irishmen in the River Plate.

But although forming so important a portion of the community, there has been little co-operation amongst them.

Hence arose the "St. Patrick's Society."

Before proceeding to speak of the more important purposes of the society, allow me to call your attention, estancieros, to the importance of this club to yourselves personally.

The President of the Society, Mr. Thomas Armstrong, took the chair at 8 o'clock, and in calling the meeting to order, thanked his fellow countrymen for the distinction they paid him in naming him to be the first President of the first Irish Society every started in the Plate; he looked upon the society and these reading rooms as the best move ever made in this country for Irishmen, as a sound, practical, and useful one, and he promised the society his very fullest support.

The Secretary then read the minutes of the last meeting and the correspondence received during the week.

Mr. E.T. Mulhall rose to propose that the ordinary business of the eighth ordinary meeting of this society stand over, to hear the inaugural address of Mr. Director Forrester.

Mr. Matthew Forrester then, came forward, and standing at the head of the room delivered the following inaugural address, which was listened to with breathless attention and frequently interrupted by rapturous applause.

I have had the honor of being appointed to deliver an Inaugural Address on the occasion of the opening of the new saloons of the St. Patrick's Society, and, much as I may feel my own incapacity to do justice to the importance of the subject, as being an effort far beyond my powers, still it is an honor which I so highly prize, that I would have exceedingly regretted having had to decline it, although I am likely to disappoint the flattering expectations which my kind friends had formed of my ability to address them.

To-night we inaugurate the permanent habitation of a society which is likely to exercise great influence, not only on the nationality which founded it, but also on the country in which we live. The Irish residents in the River Plate form no insignificant portion of the population; they are to be found in all the different branches of trade, and their industry and perseverance and intelligence have tended to aggrandize and exalt the several occupations to which they have turned their attention.

Amongst these are to be found millionaires (like our worthy president, whom I am pleased to see in his place to-night) (cheers). Men, who after years of patient toil, have become rich in this world's goods, and richer still in the good opinion of their fellow men.

Amongst them are to be found commercial men, who, mingling mercantile enterprise with liberality, are justly considered to be types of that great spirit of modern civilization which civilizes without violence, conquers without devastation.

Amongst them are to be found wealthy estancieros, those pioneers of the desert and outposts against barbarism, who, temporarily setting aside the amenities and comforts of a more civilized life, are opening up the pampa, and making it give forth those fruits of the earth which God and nature has so bountifully endowed it (cheers). These are the fathers of our future landed aristocracy, whose heritage will be prized as being the result of patient labor and disinterested self-denial—a heritage more glorious than any descended from the rapacious hands of a marauding ancestor (Cheers).

These are some of the principal types of the Irish residents in the River Plate, and their occupations all tend towards the same goal; the furtherance of that great modern civilization to which I have just alluded—a civilization founded on toil, industry, perseverance and intelligence, tinged with that spirit of religion, and faith in the goodness of God which teaches us "to do unto others as we would be done by."

But although forming so important a portion of the community, there has been little co-operation amongst them. Their efforts however praiseworthy, were isolated. They required that union which gives strength.

Hence arose the "St. Patrick's Society."

Before proceeding to speak of the more important purposes of the society, allow me to call your attention, estancieros, to the importance of this club to yourselves personally.

The President of the Society, Mr. Thomas Armstrong, took the chair at 8 o'clock, and in calling the meeting to order, thanked his fellow countrymen for the distinction they paid him in naming him to be the first President of the first Irish Society every started in the Plate; he looked upon the society and these reading rooms as the best move ever made in this country for Irishmen, as a sound, practical, and useful one, and he promised the society his very fullest support.

The Secretary then read the minutes of the last meeting and the correspondence received during the week.

Mr. E.T. Mulhall rose to propose that the ordinary business of the eighth ordinary meeting of this society stand over, to hear the inaugural address of Mr. Director Forrester.

Mr. Matthew Forrester then, came forward, and standing at the head of the room delivered the following inaugural address, which was listened to with breathless attention and frequently interrupted by rapturous applause.

I have had the honor of being appointed to deliver an Inaugural Address on the occasion of the opening of the new saloons of the St. Patrick's Society, and, much as I may feel my own incapacity to do justice to the importance of the subject, as being an effort far beyond my powers, still it is an honor which I so highly prize, that I would have exceedingly regretted having had to decline it, although I am likely to disappoint the flattering expectations which my kind friends had formed of my ability to address them.

To-night we inaugurate the permanent habitation of a society which is likely to exercise great influence, not only on the nationality which founded it, but also on the country in which we live. The Irish residents in the River Plate form no insignificant portion of the population; they are to be found in all the different branches of trade, and their industry and perseverance and intelligence have tended to aggrandize and exalt the several occupations to which they have turned their attention.

Amongst these are to be found millionaires (like our worthy president, whom I am pleased to see in his place to-night) (cheers). Men, who after years of patient toil, have become rich in this world's goods, and richer still in the good opinion of their fellow men.

Amongst them are to be found commercial men, who, mingling mercantile enterprise with liberality, are justly considered to be types of that great spirit of modern civilization which civilizes without violence, conquers without devastation.

Amongst them are to be found wealthy estancieros, those pioneers of the desert and outposts against barbarism, who, temporarily setting aside the amenities and comforts of a more civilized life, are opening up the pampa, and making it give forth those fruits of the earth which God and nature has so bountifully endowed it (cheers). These are the fathers of our future landed aristocracy, whose heritage will be prized as being the result of patient labor and disinterested self-denial—a heritage more glorious than any descended from the rapacious hands of a marauding ancestor (Cheers).

These are some of the principal types of the Irish residents in the River Plate, and their occupations all tend towards the same goal; the furtherance of that great modern civilization to which I have just alluded—a civilization founded on toil, industry, perseverance and intelligence, tinged with that spirit of religion, and faith in the goodness of God which teaches us "to do unto others as we would be done by."

But although forming so important a portion of the community, there has been little co-operation amongst them. Their efforts however praiseworthy, were isolated. They required that union which gives strength.

Hence arose the "St. Patrick's Society."

Before proceeding to speak of the more important purposes of the society, allow me to call your attention, estancieros, to the importance of this club to yourselves personally.

The President of the Society, Mr. Thomas Armstrong, took the chair at 8 o'clock, and in calling the meeting to order, thanked his fellow countrymen for the distinction they paid him in naming him to be the first President of the first Irish Society every started in the Plate; he looked upon the society and these reading rooms as the best move ever made in this country for Irishmen, as a sound, practical, and useful one, and he promised the society his very fullest support.

The Secretary then read the minutes of the last meeting and the correspondence received during the week.

Mr. E.T. Mulhall rose to propose that the ordinary business of the eighth ordinary meeting of this society stand over, to hear the inaugural address of Mr. Director Forrester.

Mr. Matthew Forrester then, came forward, and standing at the head of the room delivered the following inaugural address, which was listened to with breathless attention and frequently interrupted by rapturous applause.

I have had the honor of being appointed to deliver an Inaugural Address on the occasion of the opening of the new saloons of the St. Patrick's Society, and, much as I may feel my own incapacity to do justice to the importance of the subject, as being an effort far beyond my powers, still it is an honor which I so highly prize, that I would have exceedingly regretted having had to decline it, although I am likely to disappoint the flattering expectations which my kind friends had formed of my ability to address them.

To-night we inaugurate the permanent habitation of a society which is likely to exercise great influence, not only on the nationality which founded it, but also on the country in which we live. The Irish residents in the River Plate form no insignificant portion of the population; they are to be found in all the different branches of trade, and their industry and perseverance and intelligence have tended to aggrandize and exalt the several occupations to which they have turned their attention.

Amongst these are to be found millionaires (like our worthy president, whom I am pleased to see in his place to-night) (cheers). Men, who after years of patient toil, have become rich in this world's goods, and richer still in the good opinion of their fellow men.

Amongst them are to be found commercial men, who, mingling mercantile enterprise with liberality, are justly considered to be types of that great spirit of modern civilization which civilizes without violence, conquers without devastation.

Amongst them are to be found wealthy estancieros, those pioneers of the desert and outposts against barbarism, who, temporarily setting aside the amenities and comforts of a more civilized life, are opening up the pampa, and making it give forth those fruits of the earth which God and nature has so bountifully endowed it (cheers). These are the fathers of our future landed aristocracy, whose heritage will be prized as being the result of patient labor and disinterested self-denial—a heritage more glorious than any descended from the rapacious hands of a marauding ancestor (Cheers).

These are some of the principal types of the Irish residents in the River Plate, and their occupations all tend towards the same goal; the furtherance of that great modern civilization to which I have just alluded—a civilization founded on toil, industry, perseverance and intelligence, tinged with that spirit of religion, and faith in the goodness of God which teaches us "to do unto others as we would be done by."

But although forming so important a portion of the community, there has been little co-operation amongst them. Their efforts however praiseworthy, were isolated. They required that union which gives strength.

Hence arose the "St. Patrick's Society."

Before proceeding to speak of the more important purposes of the society, allow me to call your attention, estancieros, to the importance of this club to yourselves personally.

The President of the Society, Mr. Thomas Armstrong, took the chair at 8 o'clock, and in calling the meeting to order, thanked his fellow countrymen for the distinction they paid him in naming him to be the first President of the first Irish Society every started in the Plate; he looked upon the society and these reading rooms as the best move ever made in this country for Irishmen, as a sound, practical, and useful one, and he promised the society his very fullest support.

The Secretary then read the minutes of the last meeting and the correspondence received during the week.

Mr. E.T. Mulhall rose to propose that the ordinary business of the eighth ordinary meeting of this society stand over, to hear the inaugural address of Mr. Director Forrester.

Mr. Matthew Forrester then, came forward, and standing at the head of the room delivered the following inaugural address, which was listened to with breathless attention and frequently interrupted by rapturous applause.

I have had the honor of being appointed to deliver an Inaugural Address on the occasion of the opening of the new saloons of the St. Patrick's Society, and, much as I may feel my own incapacity to do justice to the importance of the subject, as being an effort far beyond my powers, still it is an honor which I so highly prize, that I would have exceedingly regretted having had to decline it, although I am likely to disappoint the flattering expectations which my kind friends had formed of my ability to address them.

To-night we inaugurate the permanent habitation of a society which is likely to exercise great influence, not only on the nationality which founded it, but also on the country in which we live. The Irish residents in the River Plate form no insignificant portion of the population; they are to be found in all the different branches of trade, and their industry and perseverance and intelligence have tended to aggrandize and exalt the several occupations to which they have turned their attention.

Amongst these are to be found millionaires (like our worthy president, whom I am pleased to see in his place to-night) (cheers). Men, who after years of patient toil, have become rich in this world's goods, and richer still in the good opinion of their fellow men.

Amongst them are to be found commercial men, who, mingling mercantile enterprise with liberality, are justly considered to be types of that great spirit of modern civilization which civilizes without violence, conquers without devastation.

Amongst them are to be found wealthy estancieros, those pioneers of the desert and outposts against barbarism, who, temporarily setting aside the amenities and comforts of a more civilized life, are opening up the pampa, and making it give forth those fruits of the earth which God and nature has so bountifully endowed it (cheers). These are the fathers of our future landed aristocracy, whose heritage will be prized as being the result of patient labor and disinterested self-denial—a heritage more glorious than any descended from the rapacious hands of a marauding ancestor (Cheers).

These are some of the principal types of the Irish residents in the River Plate, and their occupations all tend towards the same goal; the furtherance of that great modern civilization to which I have just alluded—a civilization founded on toil, industry, perseverance and intelligence, tinged with that spirit of religion, and faith in the goodness of God which teaches us "to do unto others as we would be done by."

But although forming so important a portion of the community, there has been little co-operation amongst them. Their efforts however praiseworthy, were isolated. They required that union which gives strength.

Hence arose the "St. Patrick's Society."

Before proceeding to speak of the more important purposes of the society, allow me to call your attention, estancieros, to the importance of this club to yourselves personally.

The President of the Society, Mr. Thomas Armstrong, took the chair at 8 o'clock, and in calling the meeting to order, thanked his fellow countrymen for the distinction they paid him in naming him to be the first President of the first Irish Society every started in the Plate; he looked upon the society and these reading rooms as the best move ever made in this country for Irishmen, as a sound, practical, and useful one, and he promised the society his very fullest support.

The Secretary then read the minutes of the last meeting and the correspondence received during the week.

Mr. E.T. Mulhall rose to propose that the ordinary business of the eighth ordinary meeting of this society stand over, to hear the inaugural address of Mr. Director Forrester.

Mr. Matthew Forrester then, came forward, and standing at the head of the room delivered the following inaugural address, which was listened to with breathless attention and frequently interrupted by rapturous applause.

I have had the honor of being appointed to deliver an Inaugural Address on the occasion of the opening of the new saloons of the St. Patrick's Society, and, much as I may feel my own incapacity to do justice to the importance of the subject, as being an effort far beyond my powers, still it is an honor which I so highly prize, that I would have exceedingly regretted having had to decline it, although I am likely to disappoint the flattering expectations which my kind friends had formed of my ability to address them.

To-night we inaugurate the permanent habitation of a society which is likely to exercise great influence, not only on the nationality which founded it, but also on the country in which we live. The Irish residents in the River Plate form no insignificant portion of the population; they are to be found in all the different branches of trade, and their industry and perseverance and intelligence have tended to aggrandize and exalt the several occupations to which they have turned their attention.

Amongst these are to be found millionaires (like our worthy president, whom I am pleased to see in his place to-night) (cheers). Men, who after years of patient toil, have become rich in this world's goods, and richer still in the good opinion of their fellow men.

Amongst them are to be found commercial men, who, mingling mercantile enterprise with liberality, are justly considered to be types of that great spirit of modern civilization which civilizes without violence, conquers without devastation.

Amongst them are to be found wealthy estancieros, those pioneers of the desert and outposts against barbarism, who, temporarily setting aside the amenities and comforts of a more civilized life, are opening up the pampa, and making it give forth those fruits of the earth which God and nature has so bountifully endowed it (cheers). These are the fathers of our future landed aristocracy, whose heritage will be prized as being the result of patient labor and disinterested self-denial—a heritage more glorious than any descended from the rapacious hands of a marauding ancestor (Cheers).

THE MUNICIPAL REPORT FOR 1872.

To abuse the Municipality is one of the standing fashions of the day.

I am not an old man, and my experience cannot extend back to such a great distance. Then what has been the wizard power that has effected such changes in such a short space of time? The days of enchantment are passed when such feats as we have read of in the Arabian Nights can be conjured up by the wand of the magician. We live in the nineteenth century, and it is the wizard of this practical age which has caused the transformation. The power of immigration, raising man out of the trance of ages, has opened up to him a glorious prospect, telling him to work and persevere, and that success will crown his efforts. In his own country a bare existence, working daily for daily bread, still a hewer of wood and drawer of water, the machine works on with "Poverty's unconquerable bar," staring him in the face, and forbidding him to try and surmount it. Give him the chance, and show him the bright goal shining afar, and soon the machine is transformed into a reasoning being, eager to enter into the conflict. [Great cheers].

This aided by wise laws and considerate concessions, has enabled the United States to transform the desert into a garden, to convert a few revolted provinces into the most powerful em-

During the year 2616 patients were admitted and 2173 discharged cured; this hospital costs the Municipality close on two million dollars yearly; the expenses of the lunatic asylum are over half a million, the Lazaretto more than a quarter of a million, the three Cemeteries nearly half a million, the poor-house more than half a million, the schools more than two million, the prisons about one million. I had better stop short here so as not to frighten you with figures.

At the Asilo de Mendigos (poor-house) there are one hundred and twenty-four men and fifty-one women; strange as it may read it is nevertheless a fact that there are more Italians at the poor-house than Argentines. Would the English millionaires of the River Plate believe that there are four of their countrymen and two of their countrywomen at the poor-house?

It appears there is only one cockpit in the city, these gambling establishments pay a ten thousand dollar patent. There are 397 billiard tables, 550 four wheeled carriages, 136 two wheeled carriages and 378 carts in the city.

There are only 2673 shops using weights or measures given in the report; this must be a mistake.

During the year 1872 seven hundred and forty-one prisoners were lodged in the principal prison, Plaza Victoria. The new Gas Company is bound by contract to light two thousand street lamps on the 1st of March next, and two thousand more on 31st of December 1874.

The employees of the Municipality are very numerous, and with the exception of those employed at the hospitals and similar establishments, give very little work in return for their salaries.

There is an inspector of gas with a salary of four thousand per month; what he does is best known to himself; the public who pay taxes to support him could dispense with his services as at present performed. The Inspector of Hygiene, with a salary of three thousand five hundred dollars per month, may be of great utility, but he will find it difficult to convince the public of his utility hitherto. There are besides some fourteen parochial inspectors of the same class, and a like number of sub-inspectors, all of whom are, no doubt, busily occupied doing nothing.

We have also a Tramway Inspector worked out of his life, a Riverine Inspector, two Market Inspectors, a Paving Inspector—and, in fact, inspectors enough to crush the hubbub in Entre Rios if they were formed in battle array; some of the parochial committees have three highly paid officials for doing work that one with the greatest ease could do.

There are two Secretaries at six thousand dollars each; one is quite enough. These with fourteen other employees at the Secretary's office are paid four hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars a year, almost half a million for the clerks of only one of the offices, besides an extra allowance of sixty thousand dollars for office expenses. All the other offices, and they are legion, are on the same scale. The total amount of the expenditure sums up to nearly forty-eight million dollars!

I remember when the figures of the Government budget were under this sum; it is no wonder the Corporation find a difficulty in making both ends meet; the members themselves, that is the Aldermen and Mayor, are probably the most hard worked men in the city; they work and toil to put the city in ship-shape, while their army of clerks endeavour with all their might to do nothing but recover their salaries and chat in their offices about politics or fashions. The best and most useful member of the Municipality will be the man with sufficient pluck to propose the dismissal of two-thirds of the employees.

DICK.

MR. ROM'S PROJECT.

CONVERSION OF THE PAPER MONEY.

The Senate and Chamber of Deputies, &c.

Art. 1. From 1st July next the Provincial Bank shall convert at sight as well their metallic notes as the paper money in circulation.

2. From said date the Oficina de Cambios shall be closed, passing its capital in gold to the Bank reserve.

3. The Executive shall give the bank Provincial bonds to the value of the paper over and above the gold deposit in the Oficina de Cambios.

4. The bonds shall bear 6 per cent interest and 1 per cent accumulative amortization fund, payable from the profits of the establishment.

5. The actual capital of the bank shall be what it holds at the date of liquidation, and all laws affecting that capital are abolished; said capital to be held to represent the paper money.

6. The directors shall be empowered to commence immediate negotiations for the opening of credits in the principal markets of Europe, for the purpose of drawing when exchange falls; the bonds to serve as security, with power to be sold in the respective "Bolsas," should the bank directors or the lenders think fit. The bank shall have power to emit specie notes of from four cents upwards to the amount of three times its capital.

8. The profits of the bank, less the amount required on the above bonds, shall be destined, half to augment the capital, and half to the public revenue.

9. Let this be published.

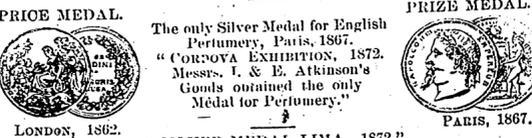

MELCHIOR G. ROM.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The inauguration of the new local habitation of the St. Patrick's Society came off on Thursday evening with an éclat that must have proved eminently satisfactory to its members of all nationalities. Mr. Thomas Armstrong, President of the Society, occupied the chair. The ordinary business of the meeting was suspended, to allow of Mr. Matthew Forrester reading an eloquent Inaugural Address, which evoked warm approval and admiration. We give full particulars in that well known place, "another column."

J. & E. ATKINSON, WHOLESALE AND EXPORT PERFUMERY AND FANCY SOAP MANUFACTURERS, 24 OLD BOND-STREET, LONDON.

PRIZE MEDAL. The only Silver Medal for English Perfumery, Paris, 1867. 'CORNOVA EXHIBITION, 1872. Messrs. J. & E. Atkinson's Goules obtained the only Medal for Perfumery.'

ESTABLISHED 1799. PRICE LIST ON APPLICATION. N.B.—All Perfumes, Eau de Cologne, Florida Water, Lavender Waters, &c. are now manufactured in bond, and greatly increased discount allowed thereon.

CAUTION—Messrs. J. & E. Atkinson's goules are largely counterfeited, orders should therefore be sent direct through Commission Houses of repute. Their goods are kept by all respectable dealers throughout the world.

ATKINSON'S CELEBRATED FLORIDA WATER. Is made of the finest Florida Water, and is shipped duty free.

ATKINSON'S YLANG YLANG. Atkinson's Ylang Ylang, and all other Perfumes, are manufactured in 'Bond' and are immediately free.

AGENTS: SAMUEL HORNER AND CO., BUENOS AYRES. c-017

ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF ENGLAND. CARDIFF MEETING, 1872.

CLAYTON AND SHUTTLEWORTH, Have much pleasure in announcing the following List of Prizes awarded them at this Show—

For the best Portable Steam Engine. THE FIRST PRIZE OF £40. For the best combined Portable Threshing and Fanning Machine. THE FIRST PRIZE OF £40.

CLAYTON AND SHUTTLEWORTH, LINCOLN, 78, Lombard-street, London, and 37, Turlington-street, Liverpool.

MARAVILLA COCOA. TAYLOR BROTHERS, The Largest Manufacturers of Cocoa in Europe. Having the FINEST COCOA...

MARAVILLA COCOA. The Globe says—Taylor Brothers, Maravilla Cocoa has achieved a thorough market...

HOMOEOPATHIC COCOA. This original preparation has attained a world-wide reputation, and is manufactured by Taylor Brothers...

SOLUBLE CHOCOLATE. MADE IN ONE MINUTE WITHOUT BOILING. The above Articles are prepared exclusively by Taylor Brothers...

CROSE AND BLACKWELL'S CELEBRATED OILMEN'S STORES. All of superior quality. Pickles, Sauces, Straps, Jams, in Tins and Jars...

LEA AND PERKINS' WORCESTER-SHIRE SAUCE. The only Silver Medal for English Perfumery, Paris, 1867.

CAUTION. Beware of cheap imitations. The name 'Suttons' is blown in the glass of every bottle...

CROSE AND BLACKWELL'S PURE PORTWINE. SOLE IMPORTERS, LONDON. At the Paris Exhibition of 1872, THREE PRIZES were awarded...

BRABY'S CORRUGATED GALVANISED SHEETS. Are of the best possible description, and of the very low price...

FREDERICK BRABY & CO., LONDON, and LEIPZIG.

KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES. Upwards of fifty years' experience has fully confirmed the superior reputation of the Lozenges...

KEATING'S WORM TABLETS. A purely VEGETABLE SWEETMEAT, both in appearance and taste...

KEATING'S PERSIAN INSECT DESTROYING POWDER. The Powder is quite harmless to Animals, but it is the most powerful in destroying Fleas, Bugs, Cockroaches, Beetles, Mosquitoes, and every other species of insect.

EUGENE RIMMEL, Perfumer to H.H.H. the Princess of Wales. 172 NEW BOND-STREET, LONDON.

DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA. The greatest remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Headache, Heartburn, Indigestion, Sour Eructations, and Bilious Affections.

DINNEFORD AND CO., Chemists, 172 NEW BOND-STREET, LONDON. N.B. Ask for 'DINNEFORD'S MAGNESIA.'

BEAUTIFUL HAIR. Can only be obtained by the use of Rowland's Hair Oil, and the falling off of the hair is prevented...

IMPORTANT CAUTION. Beware of cheap imitations. Each bottle has a name on the wrapper...

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION. Is obtained by the use of Rowland's Kelydor, which acts on the skin, and removes all impurities...

WHITE AND SOUND TEETH. Are indispensable to personal attraction, and health. Rowland's Tooth Paste is the most perfect...

ROWLAND'S ESSENCE OF TYRE. Never fails to produce instantly a perfect change in the hair...

20 A ROWLAND & SON, HATTON GARDEN, LONDON, PR. PHOTODU. c-1

JOHN & HENRY GWYNNE ENGINEERS, BULLOCK-MAKERS AND IRON-FOUNDERS, HERRING-BONE WORKS, 89 CANNON-ST., LONDON, E.C.

INDIA PALE ALE. Unsurpassed for Delicacy of Aroma, Excellent Tonic Properties, and Keeping Qualities. Breweries—EDINBURGH.

LAMPS LAMPS. FOR KEROSENE—PETROLEUM—PARAFFIN. Wright and Butler, Manufacturers and Exporters, BIRMINGHAM.

J. W. BENSON, Watch and Clock Maker to H.R.H. the PRINCE OF WALES. PRIZE MEDALS—LONDON, DUBLIN, AND PARIS.

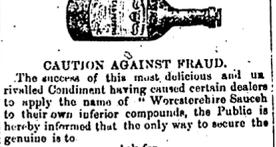

DEPRIFYING SILICATE PAINTS. For House, Ship, and General Use. Manufactured by the SILICATE PAINT COMPANY.

DAMP WALLS, CHURCHES, &c. Cured by the Petrifying Liquid, 4s a cwt. For the month of April—1873—20s. For the month of May—1873—22s.

EXTRACT FROM W. S. HARRIS AND CO'S PAPER TRADE REPORT. Liverpool, September 16, 1872. The Return of Exports for the past month, as rendered below, again shows a marked improvement...

W. S. HARRIS AND CO., SILICATE PAINT COMPANY, LIVERPOOL.

LEA AND PERKINS' WORCESTER-SHIRE SAUCE. THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE. CAUTION AGAINST FALSIFICATION.

LEA AND PERKINS' SAUCE. The success of this most delicious and unrivalled Condiment having caused certain dealers to apply the name of 'Worcestershire Sauce' to their own inferior compounds...

LEA AND PERKINS' SAUCE. Wholesale and other countries by the Proprietors: Worcester; Cross and Blackwell, London, &c. and by Grocers and Oilmen universally.

Messrs. G. T. GETTING AND CO., Buenos Ayres. c-152pw 92

F. S. CLEAVERS' PRIZE MEDAL HONEY SOAP. BROWN WINDSOR. PURE Glycerine SOAP. MARSHALL'S Glycerine SOAP.

JOYCE'S SPORTING AMMUNITION. Established 1820. FREDERICK JOYCE & CO., Invite the attention of Sportsmen to the following Ammunition...

JOYCE'S GAS-TIGHT CARTRIDGES. For Pin-fire and Central-fire. Brooch-loading Guns, Wire Cartridges for Killing Game at long distances.

FREDERICK JOYCE & CO., Patentees and Manufacturers, 67, UPPER THAMES-STREET, LONDON.

W. M. YOUNGER & CO. BREWERS, 101, WATERLOO PLACE, LONDON, W. INDIA PALE ALE.

JOHN OAKY & SONS, 172, BLACKFRIARS, LONDON, ENGLAND. FISH. OVERALL, SON, AND CO., Fish Curers, Factors, and Importers.

102 LOWER THAMES-STREET, LONDON, ENGLAND. Factories—Peterhead, Scotland, and New Holland, Norway.

BETTS' CAPULES PATENT. For the relief of the Painful Headache, and other ailments. The Public are respectfully cautioned that BETTS' PATENT CAPULES are being imitated.

BETTS' PATENT CAPULES. The Public are respectfully cautioned that BETTS' PATENT CAPULES are being imitated.

BETTS' PATENT CAPULES. The Public are respectfully cautioned that BETTS' PATENT CAPULES are being imitated.

BETTS' PATENT CAPULES. The Public are respectfully cautioned that BETTS' PATENT CAPULES are being imitated.

BETTS' PATENT CAPULES. The Public are respectfully cautioned that BETTS' PATENT CAPULES are being imitated.

BETTS' PATENT CAPULES. The Public are respectfully cautioned that BETTS' PATENT CAPULES are being imitated.

BETTS' PATENT CAPULES. The Public are respectfully cautioned that BETTS' PATENT CAPULES are being imitated.

BETTS' PATENT CAPULES. The Public are respectfully cautioned that BETTS' PATENT CAPULES are being imitated.

D. MASON & SONS. (Late D. MASON and CO.) Manufacturers of every description of SADDLES, BRIDLES, HARNESS, WHIPS, PORTMANTEAUS, &c.

Specially suitable for the SOUTH AMERICAN MARKETS. BRIDLE CUTTERS, CURRIERS, and JAPANNERS. ARMY GUN-FACTORS. BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.

Orders received through English Merchants c-111

KALYDOR SOAP. Contains a large percentage of Glycerine in combination with other ingredients of the most Emollient kind.

The Perfume is Rich and Enduring. Prices—4d. and 6d. per Tablet, and in boxes of Three Cakes, 1s. and 1s. 6d. the Box.

12 SOUTHAMPTON-ROW, LONDON. Wholesale and for Exportation.

Sold in Buenos Ayres by CRANWELL and MURRAY, 66 Reconquista St., JONES and CO., 60 Florida St., CRANWELL, Brothers, 30 Rivadavia St. c-10r

SOLE REPRESENTATIVE WANTED. For the Importation and Sale of the DON LUBRICA OIL, in the Argentine Republic. Price only 25s. the ton.

THE NEW HAT introduced by J. ELWOOD AND SONS, also their PATENT AIR CHAMBER HATS and REGULATION HELMETS, can be had in every variety.

BRIGGS BRYMME & CO., 98 Gracechurch-street, E.C., London. c-222

IRON BUILDINGS AND ROOFS. VERANDAH'S IN EVERY DESIGN. WROUGHT IRON TANKS. In any form and size.

Galvanised Corrugated Iron, Zinc Roofing. The book of 44 pages of illustrations and information, forwarded free, or sent by post at the office of the paper.

S. BARNETT, ENGINEER, 23 Forth-street, Hoxton, ENGLAND. c-1pt4

BIRAGG'S VEGETABLE CHARCOAL, OR PURE CARBON. Is one of the most effective Preservers of Health.

Best Food for Infants. BIRAGG'S VEGETABLE CHARCOAL, OR PURE CARBON. Is one of the most effective Preservers of Health.

Best Food for Infants. BIRAGG'S VEGETABLE CHARCOAL, OR PURE CARBON. Is one of the most effective Preservers of Health.

Best Food for Infants. BIRAGG'S VEGETABLE CHARCOAL, OR PURE CARBON. Is one of the most effective Preservers of Health.

Best Food for Infants. BIRAGG'S VEGETABLE CHARCOAL, OR PURE CARBON. Is one of the most effective Preservers of Health.

Best Food for Infants. BIRAGG'S VEGETABLE CHARCOAL, OR PURE CARBON. Is one of the most effective Preservers of Health.

REMATE POR Eduardo Garcia. En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.

En las Lomas de Zamora. De la Gran propiedad conocida por de Mrs. Krid, a un paso de la Estacion Temperley. Por orden y cuenta de la Sra. duella.