LATEST FROM EUROPE.

London, 12th August.

The ministerial crisis so long expected in England has at last come off and terminated satisfactorily.

It occurred after the closing of Parliament on the 5th inst., although so far back as July 31st it was asserted by the Globe that in well-informed circles it was quite current either Mr. Ayrton or Mr. Lowe, perhaps both, would retire from the Cabinet on account of the discussion they had in Parliament.

Nevertheless Mr. Gladstone was determined to keep his cabinet together until the closing of the session. On the 7th inst. the Marquis of Ripon and Mr. Childers presented their resignations, being followed by Mr. Baxter, sub-secretary of the Treasury, and Mr. Ayrton. The newly modelled cabinet was then framed in this manner:—

Mr. Gladstone, Premier and Chancellor of Exchequer.

Mr. Lowe, Sec. for Home Department.

Mr. Dobson, Sub-Secretary of Treasury.

Mr. Bright, Chancellor of Duchy of Lancaster.

The other ministers remaining as before, although Mr. Monsell's conduct in the Post-office had received much censure.

The alliance of the Royal family with the Romanists was given rise to much debate; the Russian Princess remains in the Greek religion, but consents that the children are to be educated Protestants.

Prince Arthur is likely to marry Princess Thyra of Denmark, and on the subject of these marriages it is remarked that the House of Brunswick no longer seeks German alliances, as Bismarck has made all minor German houses very precarious.

Despatches from Berlin mention a crisis at Posen, from over-speculation; 4 banks had smashed, besides one banker who shot himself; and another removed to a lunatic asylum.

More than a hundred persons were ruined, and the worst consequences were feared.

The Emperor William is now completely recovered, and announces that he is going shortly to Vienna.

The Government is straining every nerve towards getting up a first-class fleet; no fewer than 18 gunboats like the Albatross are on the stocks, three being for China, three for West Indies, three for the Black Sea, three for Baltic, and nine for the reserve, all of light draught, solid build, pierced for 6½ and 6 inch steel rifle-cannon.

A vote of 1½ million thalers has been taken to build an aristocratic suburb at Preytest, near Berlin.

The Orleans family seem to have abdicated their right to the French throne, in favor of the Count de Chambord. On the 8th inst., in accord with a resolution arrived at by the Count de Paris with his uncles of Nemours, Armaud and Montpensier, the first named, who is grandson of Louis Philippe, proceeded to the castle of Frohsdorf, and saluted the Count de Chambord as King of France by right from his grandfather, Charles the Tenth.

The Paris papers comment greatly upon this, adding that the Orleans princes had always expressed their willingness to admit the Count Chambord as head of the House of Bourbon and rightful king. This is the 3rd attempt at a fusion in two years, but it is extremely doubtful that a French Assembly would accept Henry V. with his programme a la Louis XVIII.

The republicans see in MacMahon's message and policy the utmost good-faith, keeping aloof from all intrigues of royalists. At the same time the republican deputies after the closing of the Assembly, thought fit to publish a manifesto to the country, to the effect that new elections should take place before the form of Government was resolved by the Assembly, the present house being of monarchial tendencies.

The Royalists also published a manifesto, connecting their cause with that of the Pope. Several towns and cities shewed the gratitude of France to Thiers by sending him complimentary telegrams on the retirement of the German army of occupation. The municip-pal elections at Cherbourg, Trouville and Beauvais gave majorities to the republican candidates over the monarchists.

MacMahon left Paris for a tour in the northern departments, and was received with acclamations the whole route to Calais.

Rochefort was shipped for New Caledonia on the 8th.

A duel occurred between two writers named Herud and About, about nothing, in which happily neither was hurt.

The accusation of Bazaine contains 270 counts, of which the first is, for having surrendered Metz before all means of defence were exhausted; the second is, for having made his soldiers lay down their arms before having done his best against the Prussians.

Nancy was evacuated by the Germans on the 1st, and Belfort re-occupied by French troops on the 6th, amid cries of Vive Thiers, Vive la France!

No disturbances occurred anywhere, during the evacuation except at Raon l'Étape in the Vosges mountains, where the crowd was so boisterous that the Mayor got a knock on the head with his own mace.

The Czar, after the success of his expedition to Khiva, is rewarding all the officers engaged therein.

General Kauffmann had arranged to evacuate Khiva by August 27th, leaving the Khan to continue as an independent prince on his fulfilling all the stipulations laid down in the treaty.

The Russians have obtained their purpose without the trouble of keeping an army of occupation in Khiva.

Some Italian papers say it is proposed to remove the seat of Government to Naples, and leave Rome as before to the Pope.

Victor Emmanuel says he prefers the shade of his palanquins by Sorrento and the Bay of Naples; but the Italian advanced party and the Republicans are opposed to any change from Rome.

Another version is, that the capital will return to Florence, as it was before.

The grounds on which the German Government dismissed Capt. Werner for having seized the rebel Spanish frigates were—1st, that such act was a tacit recognition of the Republic in Spain; and the Madrid Government, which Germany does not recognize; 2nd, that it was meddling in Spanish politics instead of confining himself to protect German interests.

His successor in command of the Frederic Karl is Captain Przewinski, director of the arsenal at Wilhelmshafen.

The Archbishop of Posen is summoned to appear before the criminal court on Aug. 8th, for having removed Father Arndt to Filibusch without permission of Government, at the publication of the new Church law.

The emigration from North Germany is so great that the Government is doing its best to check it, telling the people that all who go to America meet with ruin and starvation.

German naval commanders in Spanish waters are ordered to co-operate with the French and English in protecting foreigners.

The revolution in Japan has completely got the better of the Mikado, who is compelled to pass two new resolutions: 1st, abolishing all European teachers in public schools; 2nd, promising to give up his proposed trip to Europe, and remain in Japan all his life.

A change of Government had almost taken place in Montenegro, by shooting the ruling Prince, but his Highness recovered the shock, having only lost a portion of his cheek, and putting the best face on it by declaring that it does not prevent his carrying on business.

No clue is obtained as to the assassins.

The new six per cent. Turkish loan for fifteen millions sterling has been emitted at 54, the whole amount being taken up by the General Ottoman Credit Foncier Company and some foreign bankers.

The Mahomedan corvettes Pallia and Sultanisch are gone to Brindisi to receive the indefatigable Shah, expected there by the 13th.

Two Italian ironclads have been sent to prove matters in Spain. Much importance is given to a long correspondence these days, between MacMahon and Serrano.

The reported emission of Italian paper money is contradicted. M. de Croy arrived at Rome as French Chargé d'Affaires.

The Khiva medal given by the Czar bears the ribands of St. Vladimir and St. George.

General Kauffmann gets the order of St. George, as also Gens. Verenkine and Golowotchow, in lower grade.

The Grand Dukes Alexis and Constantine are made Colonels, and the Duke of Leuchtenberg becomes aide-de-camp to the Czar.

Lord Granville states that during the recess the Government will try to arrive at a Consular Convention with the United States as to the repression of outrages on the high seas, similar to that contained in the new treaty with France.

It seems the Prince of Joinville has also visited the Count Chambord, and that on the 9th the latter accepted the title of King of France, as Henri Cinque.

The Hyde Park meeting convened by Bradlaugh was a failure. The object was to protest against doubling the Duke of Edinburgh's allowance, but no one attended.

Accounts from Spain are as usual conflicting. Some say Don Carlos is here, some say he is not, yet in most people, although some papers publish the arrival of his Queen, Margaret.

Madrid telegrams of yesterday (11th) confirm the news of beating the insurgents at Valencia and Carthagena. The discussion of the new Spanish Constitution began yesterday at the Madrid Cortes.

The extraordinary one-rail tramway, called the Laramant system is working well from Lisbon to Ointra.

Some Americans are going to get M. Laramant to try it in the United States. The cars run on a central rail, thus saving half the iron necessary for an ordinary tram or rail way.

THE GERMAN ADMIRAL RETURNED TO GIVE UP THE ALMANZA AND VICTORIA TO THE MADRID GOVERNMENT.

Professor Wise is making a large balloon, in which he intends to make weekly trips to and from Europe.

The waggon will carry passengers and provisions, the former being taken gratis for the trial trip, which is to come off about the middle of August.

The balloon is to be moved by machinery, which thousands of people have visited at the Domestic Sewing Machine factory, the general opinion being, that it will be impossible to sustain such heavy machinery.

The Tigress has left for the Arctic seas, not only to look for the remains of the Polar Expedition, but also to prosecute further explorations.

The Mormons have finally abandoned Utah and Salt-like city, removing entirely into Arizona.

The first batch, 700, after crossing Red River and suffering awful hardships, had to return to their wanderings.

This caused some grumbling against Brigham Young, who had promised to found the new church in Arizona in 30 days; one of his wives was so disgusted that she escaped with a lot of valuables.

New York papers urge President Grant to annex Cuba, as Spain shews no humanity under her new form of Government towards the unhappy Cubans.

It is said Grant has notified Spain he will give her till the end of 1873 to close the war one way or other.
