

yellow, and no plants look more promising than the vines. Everything in the garden and crop way looks promising for a most abundant season of the fruits and flowers of Mother Earth.

A case worth the attention of gentlemen interested in "Thanatophidia" has occurred in Calcutta. A cobra de capella coiled itself round the wrist of an English child, who played with it, napping its head.

Amongst the funeral orations over the grave of General Conesa on Thursday those delivered by Don Vicente F. Lopez and Don Mariano Varela were remarkable for pathos and eloquence; but by far the best of all was by Don J. Gonzalez y Gimenez, who is not, as our colleagues say, of Portuguese or North American extraction, but an Irishman, his mother's name being Roberts.

The names of Irish officers are prominent in every military service of the world as well as that of our gracious Queen. France, Austria and Spain above all, count thousands of Irish gentlemen in their service, many of them attaining the very highest rank.

No city in the world suffers from a larger proportion of unmitigated 'Bores' of all nationalities than Buenos Ayres, and we feel pleasure in bringing under the notice of their victims a North American invention for their instantaneous and utter extermination.
