Montevideo, Monday 26th. The authorities have inflicted heavy punishment on the parties captured trying to run the quarantine blockade. Sant Angelo . The three boats were towed up from Flores Island after the poor fellows factories and 450 children attending had suffered quarantine, and the first put on their trial were those in the whaleboat Once de Setiembre from Buenos Ayres, who have been sentenced to six months imprisonment, or a fine of £100 sterling each: The others will probably suffer the same penalty, except some ladies and children caught near Colonia; it seems they have been sent on to be landed in Entre Rios, the authorities making the boatmen pay the penalty in their case. Messrs. Cock, Twite, Lascazes, Sua rez, Gurmendez, Posada and Balanza made a scientific visit to the much talked of coal fields, but as yet the result of their examinations is not

In vain the pretty Gauls uttered smarting from the consequences of the despairing 'mon Dieu's,' and asked some Quilmes residents hurrying for the train to interfere. Our own Italian is a little lend its attention and protection to the rusty, particularly when Genoese is spoken, or we might have acted the knight errant. The fair Parisians would have given anything for Mr. van Gelderen, or some other sworn translator, at the moment, but not one of the gremio was to be seen about. How the matter ended we dont know.

The vigorous preparations making by both the National and Provincial authorities to prevent a disturbance of the peace at the elections on Sunday have gone a good way towards calming the public apprehension. We understand that pickets of troops or the Line will be stationed at the approaches to all the churches, and no one but voters will be allowed to pass. Foreigners, having nothing to do with the elections, would act prudently by remaining in their houses on Surday, or, at least, avoiding the proximity of the polling booths. Monday being a holiday is, unfortunately, not conducive to a prompt subsidence of the erforvescence natural to the victory and deseat of the candidates. We must add that those best qualified to form an opinion do not expect any serious rioting on Sunday.

Mr. Daws, the prominent magazine man, delivered yesterday to his numerous subscribers the following European magazines for the present month: 'Good Words,' 'Leisure Hour,' 'Cornhill,' 'Little Folks, 'London Journal,' 'Sunday at Home,' 'Cassell's, 'Temple Bar,' Family Friend,' Belgravia, 'Young Meu of Great Britain, 'Young Ladies' Journal' (for February) etc., etc.
