Having received several very important improvements, viz.:—

Morrison's wonderful little Engine, for cleaning and excavating decayed teeth, preparatory to filling, which does the work with such rapidity and beautiful exactness, that in a very few seconds an otherwise sensitive tooth is prepared for the Gold in a manner unattainable by the disagreeable method of scraping and burning, so well known by those who have experienced the operation.

Also Green's Electric Engine, which took the grand Diploma of Honor at the Vienna Exhibition. The feat of harnessing lightning is fairly done in this neat, efficient, and truly wonderful little machine. By this we manipulate the gold into the most difficult or frail tooth, with the most exquisite exactness, and without danger of fracturing the most delicate enamel. Then, with the same engine, we finish and polish the filling in less than one quarter the time formerly required, and without pain. No patient who has had teeth filled in this manner once, will ever willingly consent to the use of excavators or burr again.

We have also received an immense quantity of the most beautifully carved Artificial Teeth, comprising thousands of different shades and forms, from which with our long practical experience we can match any style or feature, complexion, or expression, with such artistic incenuity that detection is impossible.

The Plate we use for the atmospheric pressure is the Wulebone Rubber, the lightest and strongest known.

We have been using Nitrous Oxide Gas for the painless Extraction of Teeth for nearly fourteen years, and have administered over

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

TELL US WHAT CURED YOU?—Tired to death. When the sick die, everybody can tell what they died of. Is it not right, then, that when the sick recover, all the world should know what cured them? And yet thousands are cured of deadly ills by Bristol's Sarsaparilla, whom the public never hear. Cases that are proof in the sublimity of miracles—such as that of the boy, James Wyckoff who was literally wrenched from the jaws of death, when more than half devoured by scrofula—of course find their way into print. Perhaps a hundred such have startled society through the columns of leading journals and medical periodicals. But Bristol's Sarsaparilla has wrought thousandsaye, tens of thousands, of cures, after physicians had shaken their heads and said, "no hope." Everywhere, at all seasons, it is silently working wonders. Would that, for the sake of humanity, the whole truth in relation to its properties were universally known. As a rule, Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills should be used at the same time with the Sarsaparilla. They take off from the system the diseased humors secreted in the latter. cj—m14,

RAILWAY TO DURAZNO.

PRIVATE TELEGRAM.

"All the collective authorities of the Department congratulate the Government of the Republic on this wonderful event of progress."

The Thales Mails.

ONE DAY LATER FROM ENGLAND.

On Thursday the fine s.s. Thales, Captain Ferguson, arrived, but owing to the state of the river the captain and passengers could not come ashore until yesterday. We are indebted to Captain Ferguson for our exchanges, and to Mr. Dashwood, a passenger, for the London Standard of the 10th, being one day later than papers received per Neva. The news is most important. The Conservatives each day win new laurels.

London, Tuesday, Feb. 10, 1874.

The tide of Conservative success is still rising. The Conservatives have a net gain of 51 seats. Mr. Sharman Crawford has beaten the Conservative candidate for the county Down. It is stated in Conservative circles that negotiations have for some days been proceeding for the purpose of securing a reconciliation between Mr. Disraeli, the Marquis of Salisbury, and the Earl of Carnarvon. Lord Derby has been acting as mediator, and the result is that last night the two noble lords consented to assist in the formation of the new Conservative Ministry.

There were 20 elections yesterday, of which 14 were won by Conservatives and 6 by Liberals.

The total up to-day is—

	Liberals.		Conservatives.
England.....	17	..	212
Ireland.....	33	..	9
Scotland.....	39	..	18
	247		269

This shews a majority so far of 22 for the Conservatives, but there are yet 150 members to be elected. At Limerick the ultra-Protestants plumped for the Home-ruler and got him returned over the Liberal candidate of the priests.

Although the statement that Mr. Gladstone has resigned has not yet been officially confirmed, it is understood that the right hon. gentleman on Friday night held a conference with several of his colleagues, and that resignation was determined on. Mr. Disraeli also had a conference with his friends on Friday evening.

The Observer of yesterday says: 'No notice has yet been issued for any Cabinet Council this week. Until the elections are concluded we believe no decision will be come to by the Ministry as to the steps to be taken in the probable event of the Opposition obtaining a decisive majority. The course most in accordance with constitutional precedent would be for the Government to await an adverse vote from the new Parliament before resigning office. On the other hand, such a course would involve a long delay, owing to the necessity of the new Ministers having to seek re-election, and would entail a serious interruption of the public business."

A special telegram from St. Jean de Luz represents General Moriones to have changed his mind about raising the Carlist siege of Bilbao. He remains in masterly inactivity on the Ebro, and the fall of the city is now thought imminent.

The Emperor of Russia and his illustrious guests have arrived again in St Petersburg. They were received at the railway station by the Grand Duke Nicholas and his staff. Before returning to England the Price of Wales will visit Cronstadt, and a naval guard of honour has been told off for the occasion.

The Duke of Edinburgh, in thanking the English residents at St. Petersburg for their address of congratulation, said it was the dearest wish of the Duchess and himself that the ties of association between the two countries, which had so long existed with important results to their industry and commerce, should be still further confirmed and strengthened.

Baron Schweinitz, the German Minister at Vienna, has requested Count Andrassy to officially contradict the reports that he had complained of the conduct of the Austrian Bishops. His Excellency assured the Count that no interference in Austrian politics was ever contemplated at Berlin, as the friendly relations of the two countries rested on their mutual independence. It is said that the denial will be given as requested.

A Gibraltar telegram states that the German flag has been hoisted in Tangiers for the first time. On the arrival of the German squadron at that port the Moorish flag was saluted. Chevalier von Gülich, formerly accredited at B. Byres is the new German Minister.

A more exact version of the news brought by the Enchantress to Lisbon is now telegraphed from St. Vincent. It appears to have been furnished by the Dromedary, hospital ship, whose dates from Cape Coast are to the 17th. Sir Garnet Wolseley himself had only advanced about 14 miles beyond Prahsu, but his scouts had reached within 40 miles of Coomassie. There was no appearance of the enemy in force. Sir Garnet's answer to the King's envoy had been that he would only treat with his Majesty in person and at Coomassie.

Correspondent at Lisbon telegraphs that the Boyne mail steamer has on board a number of invalids from Cape Coast Castle. Among them are Assistant Commissary Gore and Lieutenant Allen. All were doing well. The news brought by the Boyne has been anticipated.

Mr. Herman Merivale, formerly Permanent Under Secretary in the Colonial Office, and then Under Secretary at the India Office, died yesterday morning. He was the author of an important work on 'Colonisation,' and of a 'Life of Sir Henry Lawrence.'

In his summing up the Lord Chief Justice has concluded the Sydney evidence. He analysed the whole of the Defendant's original communications to Gibbes at Wagga-Wagga, the correspondence with Lady Tichborne, and the various accounts first given by the Defendant of his early life. His lordship traced out the possibilities of the Defendant having obtained family information from his companion State, a Hampshire man, and from the biographical articles in the Illustrated London News. It was strongly impressed on the jury that Roger Tichborne could not have known any of the names inserted by the Defendant in the Wagga-Wagga will as his executors. In support of the supposition that the idea of claiming the Tichborne estates had not been long entertained before it was put in execution, his lordship instanced the Defendant's marriage at a Wesleyan Chapel, and a number of the entries in the pocket-book picked up in Wagga-Wagga. In commenting on Dr. Kenealy's attempt to reconcile these discrepancies his lordship said it amounted to asking the jury to believe there had been an interchange of minds between Orton and the Defendant.

In the Court of Queen's Bench a Pole named M. Poles has sued the Times for libel alleged to have been committed in an article, entitled "Sham Correspondent," which appeared in that journal some time ago. It was intended to correct a story published in the Nord and other French papers about an English correspondent, a Mr. Bowles, having under the reign of the Commune offered his services to Mr. Thiers to save some of the articles of 'vertu' in his house, then condemned to be burnt. The plantiff's own evidence was taken, and then a large quantity of French evidence, taken by commission, was read. The case will again occupy the Court today.

A street Arab picked up $5,000 m/c. in Calle Cuyo between Maipu and Esmeralda, on Thursday. He devoted half a second to deciding what he would do with it, the result being his disappearance from policemen's ken, with the treasure trove in his pocket.

THE CENTRAL URUGUAY RAILWAY.

We learn by telegram from Montevideo that the first locomotive had reached Durazno, which is the terminus of the Central Uruguay Railway, and that the occasion was one of great rejoicing on the part of the populace.

During the festivities in honour of this important event the authorities of the department sent a telegram to the Government at Montevideo, full of congratulations upon the great stride in the progress of the country evinced by the arrival of an engine at a town so far in the interior.

Nor is the cause of rejoicing on the part of our neighbours on the other side of the River Plate groundless, as nothing could tend more effectually to establish peace and prosperity on a secure basis, than opening up the country by railways, and thus affording facilities for intercommunication between the inhabitants of the more remote districts.

There is moreover in this instance a particular cause for satisfaction on the part of the inhabitants of Durazno in seeing the realization of their long cherished hohes—hopes which were so long deferred that the most sanguine promoters of the cause might well have despaired of its eventual success.

Many years ago a project was set on foot for the construction of a railway from Montevideo to Durazno with capital to be subscribed in these countries. The proposal was popular, and the public responded to some extent to the call made upon them. The works were begun with great eclat and amid much talk and prophesies of the speedy and successful completion of the undertaking. But after the loss of much valuable time, and the expenditure of no small amount of money, the Central Uruguay Company found itself in the position of many a thoughtless spendthrift, "out of money and in debt," and in possession of a few miles of unfinished and useless railway.

In this unpleasant condition the enterprise remained until about three years ago, when the company sent a representative to London to endeavour to get the matter taken up by English capitalists. This mission was successful, and ended in Messrs. Waring Brothers undertaking the raising of the capital and the construction of the railway.

The works were at once begun, and have ever since been carried on with rapidity and uninterrupted perseverance, and now the rails are laid throughout the entire length of the line, and the engine has passed over them. The stations, bridges and culverts are all finished, and we understand that the few things which still remain to be done will occupy but little time, so that the railway might be got ready to be opened to public traffic in a month from this.

We sincerely congratulate our Uruguayan neighbours on the occasion, and trust that this evidence of the progress of the country may be but a foretaste of what the future has in store for them.

EVACUATION OF THE GAS-HOUSE.

This establishment, which was successfully carried by assault on the afternoon of Friday 6th instant, was evacuated after a brief occupation of 5 days, the forces retiring without beat of drum and in the most noiseless manner on the 11th. The whole incident, happily unattended with blood-shed, recals the capture of the Cerro and its hasty abandonment by the Blancos some 3 years ago. Mr. Prospero Larré, previous manager of the Gas-house, describes his trying position during the armed occupation of the premises, every moment fearing the place would be blown up. This would have cut short the whole difficulty as effectually as the sinking of the Virginius in the Cuban embroglio The following notes are matters for history, to shew that in 1874, we retrograded, as the Prensa says, to the gloomy epoch of 1840.

Town-hall, Buenos Ayres
March 11th, 1874.

To the President of the Primitive Gas Company,

As we have now succeeded in lighting the streets we are no longer under the necessity of continuing to use gas. We have therefore withdrawn the guards placed in the Gas-house, and if you send us an account of the quantity of gas used in the last 4 nights we shall pay you instanter.

Miguel Nazar.
B. Llorente.

Gas-house, March 11th.

To the President of the Co.

On the 7th inst. I had the honor to advice you that the Municipality broke open the gates, maltreated some of our men, and obliged them to go on with their work. Since then I have received no order from either the Municipality or the Directors. The machinery has sustained much injury, and for the last couple of days I feared the place would be blown up. To-day at 4 p. m. the forces evacuated the establishment, without notifying me or without paying any of the men, who hope the Company will make it good to them, as the poor fellows have only their wages support them. Please let me now it I am to resume my former post as manager.

Prospero Larré.

The following reply of the Directors to the Corporation shews that on the 31st inst. all the public institutions will be left in darkness if the Municipality continue in its system of paying nobody.

Gas-office, March 12th.

To the President of the Municipality.

Your note of yesterday advices us of the withdrawal of the forces from the Gas-house, and requests us to send an account of the fluid used during the term of occupation.

In years happily gone by it was customary to rob and murder people in B. Ayres and plunder their houses, under the name, of "popular enthusiasm." But those times are past, and now we call things by their proper name, and excuse your mystifying phrases about 'acts of vigilance.' In fact your note is either a mockery or a farce.

Our moderation allowed you to take forcible possession of our Gas-house, and the ineptitude of the Tribunals permitted you to remain there as a scandal to our city.

Your evacuation of the place without returning it to us in due form makes you still further responsible for whatever damages or injury caused there. As regards the Gas consumed during the 5 nights of occupation you will find it among the items for damages in our suit before the Courts.

As you have now adopted Kerosene instead of Gas for street-lighting, it is right that you do the same as regards your municipal offices, hospitals, prisons &c., to prevent another difficulty in the event of your not paying us at the end of the month.

We shall drag you before the Tribunals, with the hope that B. Ayres may not again return to those sad times when policemen broke open peoples' doors.

Jose M. Estrada President.
Jayme Llavallol, Jacobo Parravicini, Marcos Demarchi, Directors.

The lighting by Kerosene has encountered an unforeseen difficulty, as it appears by the subjoined note that either the neighbors or some ill-disposed vagrants have begun stealing the lamps.

Town-hall, March 12th.

To the Chief of Police,

During the last two nights numbers of Kerosene lamps have been abstracted from the 'faroles' at the street-corners. This not only causes irregularity of lighting, but drives us to incur fresh expenses to replace the lamps. You will therefore direct the police to arrest any parties taking away the lamps.

Miguel Nazar.
B. Llorente.

It is evident that we have not yet seen the the end of this Gas duel, and the public interests may at any moment be put in jeopardy if the Governor or Legislature do not step in. It would be advisable to order at once a Reformed Municipality, as in the Convention recently concluded, whereby we shall have a proper Town-Council with power to tax house-owners and levy rates for the public service. Some people suppose there will necessarily be much waste of public money. It may be so, but even the rogueries of New York are not so bad as to leave a city without gas or cemetery, policemen unpaid, everybody unpaid, and a Municipality that must subsist on air because the citizens are afraid to trust their money.

APPROACHES TO THE RIVER PLATE.

The manner in which the approaches to the estuary of La Plata are at present lighted, and also the measures taken to secure the safe and speedy navigation of the river, have long been considered by many nautical men frequenting the two cities of the Plate as lamentably deficient and utterly inadequate to supply the wants of the large and ever-growing traffic on these waters.

It is true that the necessary work for the establishment of a light of the first magnitude on Cape Santa Maria is well advanced, yet, we may remark, had this light been exhibited sooner, it might have been the means of saving at least one splendid vessel. The next point which vessels endeavour to sight is Maldonado, and the light on East Point, at this place, is without doubt a good one. It is, however, unfortunately rendered comparatively useless on account of its eminently unsatisfactory position, and instead of fulfilling its end by being a guide and monitor, it serves not unfrequently to lure a vessel to destruction. It is difficult to imagine any other pretext for the avoidance of Lobos as a site for this light and the choice of the present unsuitable position, than the reason given in the Book of Directions, namely that it disturbed the seals on that island.

In the variable and unsettled weather, prevailing at certain seasons about the entrance to the Plate, the mariner, who may only get a glimpse of East Point light, and therefore may be unable to determine his exact distance from it, undergoes the greatest danger in passing this island with its treacherous reef, whereas were a light exhibited on Lobos, he would thereby be enabled to steer his course with safety and confidence. The large number of vessels, which have from time to time been stranded and lost on the dangerous reef extending to the eastward of Lobos, is a sufficient and convincing proof of the truth of the foregoing remarks. It may be said, however, that after all it is impossible to prevent ships being wrecked, and to a certain extent this is quite true; but it will be generally admitted that the building of a good lighthouse on Lobos island, and the establishment of a signal in fog, would be the means of preventing many disasters.

With the light on Flores island, and the light-ship north of the English Bank, the dangers of the northern passage may be said to be pretty well indicated; but another lightship, distinct in character from the existing one (say with two lights) moored on the southern extremity of the bank, would be of the greatest service to vessels taking that route.

In proceeding to speak of the so-called lightships in the river, it may not be out of place to mention, by way of shewing the high state of perfection to which these vessels have been brought, what other countries have done in the matter.

There are at present not less than fifty lightships moored around the coasts of Great Britain, several of them being exposed to the full roll of the heaviest Atlantic seas, and all of them occupying more or less exposed positions; yet during the last fifteen years not one of these vessels has drifted from her allotted position, and amidst all vicissitudes of weather they have continued to fulfil the purpose for which they were intended, constantly showing their lights, clear and bright, from sunset to sunrise. How, then, has this end been accomplished? The answer is easy. These vessels are specially built for the purpose, every care and precaution is used in their construction, each link of the cable by which they are moored is tested to a strain of 30 tons, and, in case of accident, they are provided with a plentiful supply of spare gear of all kinds. These vessels are also periodically surveyed by nautical men, thoroughly acquainted with their requirements, and every vessel is every seven years removed from its station, for a complete and thorough overhaul, being replaced for the time by a spare light-ship. In short, nothing is spared that money, skill, and long experience, can bring about to make these vessels secure, and enable them to fulfil their most important duties.

How differently are these vessels managed on the River Plate! It is no uncommon occurrence, after a breeze, to find a light ship several miles from her proper position. Off Point Indio, there is an old hulk, which is evidently so leaky as to necessitate the use of a windmill for pumping. When first seen at a distance, in daylight, especially if the weather be at all hazy, this peculiar and unusual construction, which is placed between the masts, gives her the appearance of a steamer, and it is only on a nearer approach that her true character can be distinguished.

Again, the vessel known as the Chico lightship, having some time ago foundered, was replaced by a small schooner of ordinary rig, which has neither any name painted on her sides, nor any distinguishing mark whatever about her, except perhaps the national flag occasionally shown at her main, if it can be considered any guide.

The large sum of money yearly received by the Government as light dues must be amply sufficient to maintain this service in the very highest state of efficiency, and yet that there is room for vast improvement we have no hesitation in asserting.

We now pass on to another source of anxiety and danger to those navigating the Plate, namely, the number of sunken wrecks, strewed in various parts of the river (the roadstead of Buenos Ayres at present undergoing a thorough clearance, excepted). As things now stand a ship bound for Buenos Ayres, or a steamer, as not unfrequently happens, compelled through quarantine regulations to pass directly up, has no means of discovering these hidden dangers, but the undesirable and unpleasant one of striking on them, many of the pilots even being ignorant of their exact locality. Now, it is customary in other countries to place buoys over any vessel submerged in a navigable channel and to remove the obstruction as speedily as possible. When we consider also that a vessel could be blown up at a trifling expense the apathy displayed by the authorities in this matter seems unaccountable.

Commercially speaking, it must be to the advantage of any nation, that it should give vessels every facility for the successful navigation of its waters. Frequent losses on the coast of any country can only result in higher rates of insurance being exacted from the goods shipped to that country, and in the long run the persons who suffer most must be the consumers.

Such a state of things is also against all principles of humanity, for there is not accorded to the travelling public that amount of protection which they have a right to expect, or to the sailor the means of guidance, which the hazardous nature of his calling imperatively demands.

The amount of anxiety experienced by persons in charge of large iron vessels, when running in thick or foggy weather, can not be fully appreciated by any but those who have themselves actually experienced it, and it is a matter of regret that some one out of the many able and accomplished commanders in this trade should not have been induced to take up this subject more competently.

It is to be hoped that the attention of Government will be speedily directed to the renovating of a system which has been suffered to fall into such a state of neglect and decay, and the complete re-organization of which could not fail to be beneficial to the country in general, as well as to the maritime community.

John Blair,
Commander of the Cybele.
Glasgow.

Mr. Vicente Moneta is going home on a queer speculation. Italy is hard up, and is going to sell half her gunboats by auction. Mr. Moneta is going home to buy them, on the chance that the Argentine Government will want them and give him a smart profit on them. This is a big spec.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday was about as weary a day in the news way as we remember Our contemporaries were insufferably dull, and so hard-up for filling stuff that they had to root up several 'focos de infeccion,' a 'pis aller' which does the same duty for them as the Hole in the Mole, the Museum, or the 70,000 ounces for us occasionally. The closing of every port on both sides of the Plate has played the mischief with everybody and everything; no news, no letters, no merchandize can now be exchanged, and the telegraph is the only friend the Plate can call its own. The present silly state of things is positively unbearable. People in Europe will say that we have all gone raving mad in the Plate, when the Governments of two young and thriving countries can be guilty of bringing about such a monstrous snag up, the people looking on like whipped children, with their thumbs in their mouths. It's monstrous, Monstrous, Monstrous!

The first telegram from the sister city yesterday morning announced that the first locomotive had run through to Durazno on the C. U. Railway. Our neighbours were naturally in a great state of delight at the event, and went in strong for rockets and refreshments to celebrate it. The conduct of Montevideo in the quarantine business has been so ineffably shabby that Buenos Ayres cannot be expected to care much whether she is laughing or crying; nevertheless we congratulate the contractors and shareholders on the opening of the line to Durazno. We should like very much to be able to congratulate the Montevideans on the opening of their port. Mr. Ellauri's Scotch ancestry does not seem to have brought him the large share of common sense inherent in Caledonian blood; otherwise Montevideo would be open tomorrow morning.

We were favoured yesterday by Mr. Kratzenstein with a copy of his magnificent photograph of the new Provincial Bank. All who have seen it declare it to be a masterpiece of the art, and the finest photograph ever taken in the Plate. To produce this splendid photograph it was necessary to send to England for a special lens, the distance at which the camara could be placed from the Bank being so short in consequence of the narrowness of the street. Mr. K. with the foresight of a Bismarck, sent to England for this lens six months ago, through Mr. Boot, the well known purveyor of photographic apparatus. We understand that another eminent photographer had received the official order to photograph the Bank, but he forgot to provide the special lens, and Mr. K. has won a photographic victory. A 'torre' is now being put up behind Dr. Tejedor's house, to enable the official photo to be taken. It will be larger than Mr. Kratzensteiu's, but this gentleman has the advantage of being first in the field.

The splendid steamer Thales entered port yesterday morning. We are indebted to Captain Ferguson and one of his passengers—Mr. Dashwood—for one day's later papers from England, those of the 10th ult, from which we give extracts in another column. The Conservatives in England and the Home Rulers in Ireland are carrying everything before them, making a 'clean sweep' of it in fact. The Standard of the 10th announces that the Conservative majority had risen to 51—102 on a division. In Limerick the Cons. plumped for Mr. O'Sullivan, the Home Rule candidate, and carried him in triumphantly.

Mr. Dashwood, who has just arrived in the Thales, and who is well known here as a breeder of thorough-bred English dogs, has brought out with him the finest collection of thoroughbred fowl ever imported into the River Plate. Black Spanish, Golden and Silver Poles, Black Fan-tail Pigeons, etc., etc., make up this unequalled collection. Look out fanciers, and apply in time.

There is truly tremendous news from Montevideo. A passenger who arrived up in the Thales yesterday informs us that the place is like a city of the dead, not a cart or a Christian to be seen in the streets, and the whole place 'up the spout.' Ha! Ha! So much for quarantine and port closing. Let us see which city will hold out the longest, and which will cry 'Peccavi' first. Over 50 passengers were booked at the Mount to come up here in the Thales, but the Government would not let them embark. Here's a pretty go. It's all up with the Mount. Even the Jones Loan won't save it now.

An Indiana reporter says that a man who lately had his legs cut off by a railroad train "will probably be a cripple for life."

Two lawyers, members of the same firm, have gone to law with each other. This is regarded as one of the saddest things that have occurred for a long time past.

An American literary gentleman says—"I find plenty ov people who are willing tew tell all they kno, if you tell them all yew kno, but the mizrey of trade iz, they don't kno much."

The weather continued squally yesterday and the vessels in port got a good tossing, but only a few lighters touched bottom. The river was so rough that all loading and unloading had to be suspended. The back of summer may now be considered broken, but the end of this month and beginning of next may have some roaring hot days in store for us.

Everyone wants to have a kick at the Municipality now that it is down. 'Hit him hard he has no friends' is the 'mot d'ordre.' Even the thieves are determined to have a slate at the Corporation, and for the last two nights have been busily engaged in pilfering the famous kerosene lamps which now make the darkness of the city visible, and which the unfortunate Municipality bought on five month's credit. By the time the bill for them falls due there wont be a kerosene lamp left in the streets. The Gas Company have got back their Works, and have intimated to their Municipal foes that, it they dont see the colour of some money before the end of the month, the gas will be cut off from the Hotel de Ville, the Hospitals, schools and every public office or place with which the Town Council have anything to do.

The English papers to hand yesterday shadow forth the probable resignation of Mr. Gladstone before Parliament meets, and the elevation of Mr. Cardwell to the Peerage.

The extensions of the Southern Railway to Dolores and Azul will be finished by the end of this year. Viva!

Here is a queer story about the famous Winter Palace at St. Petersburg; "One day, shortly after the dreadful fire which nearly forty years since consumed the greatest portion of the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg, the Emperor Nicholas was driving through the streets of the capital in his droschky, when a middle-aged, long-bearded man, in the ordinary costume of the shop-keeping class, broke through the ranks of the crowd, rushed up to the Imperial vehicle, threw a sealed packet into it, and then, taking to his heels, was speedily lost to sight. But, ere he disappeared, the Czar heard him say, "Little Father, you must build up your house again". When the packet was opened it was found to contain banknotes to the amount of twenty-five thousand roubles (£3,750). Advertisements were put forth inviting the mysterious donor to come forth and avow himself; but the long-bearded man made no sign."

As we were going to dinner yesterday evening, we heard that Barracas was flooded out of house and home. Water in all the wooden houses, and some of them gone on a cruise. Tide still rising.

ON 'CHANGE.

March 13th, 1874.

Ounces	400
Sovs	122½
Pats	25
Nat. Bonds	78½
Cedulas.	84½

The Cedula market ruled about the same today; very little done. The novelty in the market was the judicial auction sale of 5 400 Nat. Bonds, which were sold at the ring by order of the Court The first bid was 75, and the price at which they were knocked down 78½. Mr. L. Gomez, the broker, auctioneer. It is really very significant the low price of this stock, and it is regarded as a true index of the state of the market; there being no speculation now in the stock, neither bears nor bulls are compelled to buy, and as for capital seeking investment, there is none in the market.

Up to 4 o'clock to-day there was nothing fresh known from Montevideo. It appears that the pilots at the mouth of the river notify the captains of vessels One or two vessels entered the river to-day and passed up without touching at Montevideo. This shows how the wind blows. But merchants and bankers say that it is really strange that none of the Foreign Ministers offer their friendly services to arrange the question. The real losers by the present quarantine war are the foreign merchants, and surely our commercial interests are of sufficient importance to justify the interference of the corps diplomatique; everyone is speaking of this, and it is to be hoped the Ministers will try and do something.

The meeting at the Provincial Bank was looked forward to-day with much anxiety owing to the Cedula question coming up. The Bank discounted 14 millions to-day 22 millions asked, making a total of discount for the week of 43 millions currency, and about as much the previous week; this shows how liberally the Bank is discounting; as regards the Cedula question it stands over until next meeting there not being sufficient number present, it seems that there is much dispute as to the value; the general opinion is that 75 is about the proper figure.

The sales to-day were as follows—

Cedulas
For cash	23,100	84½
For end month	20,000	85¼
March 23rd	30,000	85
April 30th	10,000	85½
May 31st	10,000	86
April 30th	20,000	85⅝

Argentine Bank:
50 shares at par.
National Bank:
This stock looks flat.
10 shares at 91.
50 do. 91.
50 do. 91.
20 do. 91.

Total sales, 130 shares.

Exchange rules at 48¼-49, something was also done at 48¼ but with a short credit. The exchange brokers report that the best bills in the market are offered at 48⅝. It was said by some that the Government has taken, but of this we could not find out. Bills on France and Antwerp at 5.18.

In the liquidation very little done.

10,000 Cedulas for to-morrow at 84½
20,000 do for end April at 85½
2.300 do cash at 84½.

Money ruled to-day at from 12 to 15 per cent. Best paper done freely at 12; loans on stocks it seems are being called in which leads to a movement at the banks.

Captain H. S. Ferguson, of the s.s. Thales, was welcomed on 'change to-day. He had five days terrible weather in the Channel, nevertheless he made the run out in 27½ days. He brings English papers one day later than Neva and the following cargo:

680 " here

and we hear has engaged the following cargo up the river:

100 tons salted hides.

Amongst the Thales passengers are Professor Kyle, Mr. Dashwood of San Nicolas and Capt Vigne of Rosario. Professor Kyle and Captain Ferguson, at a distance of 350 miles from B. A. drew up several samples of water every 9 hours which the professor is about to analize. Several Irish and Scotch emigrants have arrived in her for the camp, also 2 Engine drivers for Cordova Railway. The Thales will probably sail for Rosario on Sunday.

Mr. Kelly, the well known wool broker, has purchased 3,000 picked sheep at reserved prices.

Salted hides are looking up, prices to-day rule from 56 to 57. We hear the 57 is offered for B. A. summer hides now ready. This looks well.

Mr. George E. Wilkinson has returned from the States, and was welcomed on 'change today. He speaks favorably of the treatment on board the pontoon.

We find in the English papers at hand to-day the following maritime intelligence—

"The Pascal (s.s.) from the River Plate, arrived at Madeira on the 3rd instant, with main-shaft broken. She was towed in by the Ethiopia (s.s.)"

The Ethel Ann, from Fray Bentos, at Falmouth.

Mr. Rogers, contractor of the Andino Railway, arrived in town yesterday from Rosario, and reports the earthworks more than half made to the Rio Quinto. The line will probably be finished by the end of the year.

We publish in another column a most important paper from Captain Blair, of the s.s. Cybele on the difficulties which surround navigation at the entrance of the River Plate. The whole commercial community is indebted to Cap. Blair for this able exposition of abuses, for with the large sums in the shape of port dues collected at Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, the studied neglect of buoys, light ships, &c., by the two governments can only be characterized as an abuse. The Gelly Obes lighthouse, at Cape Sollary, is now finished, and we suppose the light will be at once put up, as it is much required at that point. We commend the paper to the attention of merchants.

The freshest thing on 'Change this morning was the reciprocity port decree of the Montevidean government, shutting all the Oriental ports against all the Argentine ports. The business has now assumed such a shape that if left in the hands of the two governments the ports will remain closed until the end of the present administrations. The proper course to adopt is for the merchants in both markets to hold meetings, pass resolutions, and place the question on its proper footing. We hope to see some step of the kind taken. The losses to commerce if the present state of things is allowed to continue will be enormous.

The next Chilian steamer from the West Coast will be due on Monday next, her advices are anxiously looked for. The best informed parties here look forward to rather unpleasant news; in fact there is no saying what a day may bring, many persons think that already the fat is in the fire, and that the Governor of Punta Arenas has taken possession of Santa Cruz. In such case, the next move here it is thought will be towards the Andes; why this question of limits is not left to the arbitration of a friendly power seems really inexplicable; our London correspondent says that the feeling in Europe on this question is adverse to Chile, the European Governments consider very properly that the Atlantic coast is entirely Argentine; the quarrel seems an ugly one enough as it stands.

The growth of the Popular Argentina is, perhaps, unprecedented in this market, and from the steady increase of the deposits at interest, and the sale of $6.10 tickets, it is pretty evident that, in course of time this company will become the largest mutual company in this market. The following figures show the business of this company:—Amounts lent out by the company on real estate, bond and mortgage, &c., 907,589 pats.; cash on hand, 19,258 do.; cedulas and bonds, 97,437 do.; giving a total of 1,024,689 pats. assets of the company, and this without counting 450,000 pats. capital that can if necessary be called up. Thus this company, with a paid up capital of 50,000 pats., holds in moneys lent out in this market, and cash on hand, the magnificent sum of 1,023,589 pats. We congratulate Dn. Pedro Lamas, the general administrator, on his brilliant success.

The auction sales of properties mortgaged to the Banco Hipotecario are significant; the notices will be found in our advertizement columns. We note that in the list is an estancia. This, we believe, is the first time that an estancia has been foreclosed by this court.

The Boca question is at last about to be settled. The Riachuelo is to be dredged, and the work, which is now about to be carried out will be continued until the navigation of the Boca is made—what years ago should have been done. On the sides of the Boca will be constructed wharves to suit the growing shipping trade of that district. It appears that now that the Bateman port scheme is given up the Provincial Government is resolved to make the Boca the royal port of Buenos Ayres.

The Thales entered to-day, and the passengers came ashore at noon. From one of the passengers we gathered a most gloomy picture of the state of things in Montevideo. The place looks like a besieged town. At the Hotel Oriental on Tuesday only four people sat down to dinner. The streets are deserted, not a cart, a horse, or even an English Conservative to be seen about. Mr. ..... says that it is impossible to adequately describe the present state of that shut up town. Over 50 passengers booked for Buenos Ayres, not one allowed to leave. Some people say that the whole affair is a political stroke, that there was some talk of revolution, and hence the snapping off of all relations.

"The Stock Markets were firmer to-day, under the influence of numerous investments, based upon more settled conclusions as to the course of political affairs at home, coupled with a belief that the supply of stock at the settlement, which will begin on Wednesday, will be comparatively small. The continuance of discussions respecting the relations between Germany and France has little or no adverse influence, it being felt that whatever may be the views of the latter Government, there is no real prospect of any serious disturbance on the Continent for some time to come. The Funds were unaltered for money, but declined 1-16 per cent. for the account. A rise occurred in nearly all the speculative Foreign Bonds, Costa Rica, Egyptian, Khedive, Russian, and Turkish being in prominent request. Spanish, however, were offered, the slow progress of the military operations under the new Government being regarded with some disappointment.

"There was a good demand for money, both at the Bank and in the open market, where the rate for three month's bills was 3⅛ per cent. Six months' India and China Bank drafts were quoted 4¼, showing a rise of ¼. The supply of money offering in Lombard-street was small, a further large sum having been diverted to the Bank on account of taxes. Short loans were in request on the Stock Exchange at 3 to 3½ per cent

"The Bank of Bengal has raised its rate of discount for bills under 30 days from 9½ to 10½ per cent., and for bills over 30 days from 10½ to 11½ per cent.

"About 5000 sovereigns were withdrawn from the Bank for Portugal.

"The Hydaspes has arrived from Alexandria with £18,301 in specie, and the Frisia, from New York, with £2800.

"The steamer Pera has left Melbourne for Galle with 70,000 ounces of gold and £30,000 in sovereigns, making a total of £310,000. Including the sum by the previous packet, due towards the end of the month, about £800,000 in Australian gold is 'en route' to this country.

"The weekly return of the New York Associated Banks shows an increase of £1,148,000 in the loans and discounts, £1,368,000 in the net deposits, £3600 in the legal tenders, and £2000 in the circulation, but a decrease of £24,000 in the specie.

We have been frequently asked for information regarding the shares of the Platino Brazileira Telegraph Co. and the Bonus shares to which each shareholder will become entitled in the laying and handing over of the cable. From time to time we have given such information and data as we could obtain from those connected with the Co. We now again have much pleasure in stating authoritatively that the shareholders in the Platino Brazileira Telegraph Co, resident in Brazil and the River Plate, will become entitled to and receive their Bonus shares from the Western and Brazilian Company in the proportion of one £20, share of this latter company for every four share, held by them in the Platino Co. or at the rate of £5 per shares, bonus on the laying and handing over of the cable in April next. These bonus shares are now deposited in London pending the laying and handing over of the cable, and so soon as this event shall have taken place, and the certificate of the Western Co. engineers to that effect shall be presented in London those shares will be handed to the Platino Co. agent in that city. As half the capital is subscribed in London, half the bonus shares will be retained there for distribution amongst the shareholders, and the remaining half will be sent to the board of the Platino Company at Rio for distribution there and here. But should any shareholders here or in Rio prefer having his bonus shares handed over to any agent or nominee of theirs in London, there must be an order obtained from the Rio board to that effect on the Company's agents in London, as otherwise they would not be justified in handing them over, there being no share register of the South American shareholders in London. Hence the better mode of proceeding for the shareholders here, would be to address a note to the Board at Rio requesting them, when the time arrives for the distribution of Bonus Shares in London, to advise the agents of the Co. there to retain and hand over to the parties named in a list which should accompany the note, such Bonus Shares as may be therein specified; and the various shareholders here should advise their agents in London to call for same at the agents office, 24 Lombard St., E.C. We must candidly confess that at times we are puzzled to understand the more than complicated mass of names and places, of Boards of Directors and Agents, Delegates and Fiscales, which crop up in all the affairs of this company, and we are now but expressing the opinion of a large majority of the shareholders here, that a radical reform is needed in this respect We know that the operations of the company will be reduced in the future to two objects and two places, namely, the receipt of the 20 per cent of the gross earnings from the Western and Brazilian Co. and the working of the London lines. The former will be exclusively transacted in London, and the latter here in the River Plate. It would appear therefore that a Board of Directors in R. Janeiro, and a costly paraphernalia of a legal domicile in Brazil, are not only not essential to the future conduct of the Co.'s affairs, but on the contrary, materially prejudicial to its operations and interfere with its progress. The truth of these remarks will be apparent when it is shown that the simple declaration and payment of dividends to the shareholders will be an operation of extreme difficulty and extend over such a time as will probably bring the payment of the previous half year's dividend into the succeeding one, thereby causing serious inconvenience and loss of interest. For example, on the receipt of the revenue in London the agents there will notify the Board at Rio that such and such an amount is disposable for dividend, the Board must then call a general meeting of shareholders in Rio, at which those of the River Plate must attend either personally or by proxy. This will take at least two months to accomplish, in addition to the month already lost from London to Rio, then, before the dividend declared at the general meeting can be paid at Buenos Ayres at least another month will have been lost, making in all a delay of some four months which must transpire in each half year before the dividend corresponding thereto can be received by the shareholders. Again the revenues derivable from the land lines as well as those to come from London will have to be first remitted to Rio, and then re-remitted here and to London for distribution on dividends, causing a serious loss in freight insurance and interest. Another point of no less importance should be borne in mind by the shareholder here. The shares placed in Brazil and the River Plate are at present not saleable, nor quotable on the London market, because no register exists there, nor has the necessary authority been obtained for this object. Hence the London shares will always be worth much more, as they are quoted daily on the Stock Exchange, and transactions in them on such a market as London is always feasible, whilst here, or in Rio, we know how limited is the field for such operations. From the foregoing it would appear that the most advantageous course for the River Plate shareholders to pursue would be to call a general meeting at Rio and representing as they do 8 000 shares against 2,000 in Brazil, pass a resolution to the effect "that the operations of the company being now reduced to receiving the revenues in London, and working the land lines in the River Plate, there is no longer any object in maintaining a board of directors and offices at Rio. That the legal domicile of the company be transferred to London, and that the share register in that city shall henceforth embrace the shares placed in Brazil and the River Plate, and thus facilitate their sale and transfer on the London market. That two trustees be named in London to represent the interests of the company, and to whom the present agents would be responsible, and under their immediate supervision conduct all the affairs of the company in the same manner as the present Board of Directors do at Rio. These trustees or Board would call general meetings of shareholders in London (as it is to be supposed that all, or nearly all the South American shares would find their way there), and declare the dividends as they are earned, remitting out here direct any sums which might correspond to shares held here. These steps ought to be at once taken, and the above resolutions carried at the next general meeting, to be held in Rio de Janeiro on the occasion of the coming inauguration of the cable. We believe their realisation would be conducive to the general welfare of the company, and certainly give the shares placed here a real value in advance of their present one.

DEATHS.

On the 27th February, at Fort Sarmiento, Rio Quinto frontier, Dr. Crowdland, aged about 60. Deceased was a native of England and had resided many years on the West Coast and in California, but latterly in Rosario and Rio Cuarto, being Government physician at the last-named place. An outbreak of cholera having occurred at Fort Sarmiento, he proceeded thither and fell a victim to his medical zeal. He was much esteemed by foreigners and natives, and it is hoped the Government will perisn his bereaved family.

On the 2nd March, at the 25 de Mayo, Mr. Thomas Meany, a native of County Cure, Ireland, aged 48 years; much regretted by a wide circle of friends.—R.I.P.

On the 12th March, at Circo Equinas, Elena Alice, in ant daughter of F. W. Davis, Esq.

Dupuy to the Rescue.

So completely have the good residents of this free city been sat upon by the most effete and good-for-nothing Corporations that ever afflicted a noble people, that there scarcely seems a hope for the future of the land.

Fortunately, the genius of Otard saves the situation.

What! though the body be in darkness, if the mind can be enlightened every night by a few drops of the "Matchless Brandy."

IMPORTANT CAUTION—Ask for Rowland's Macassar Oil, and avoid all other cheap articles under the same or similar names as spurious imitations. Each bottle has a glass stopper instead of the cork as formerly. All with the cork are spurious imitations.

ROWLAND'S ODONTO, or Pearl Dentrifice, preserves and imparts a pearl-like whiteness to the teeth, eradicates tartar and spots of incipient decay, strengthens the gums, and gives a pleasing fragrance to the breath. Price 2s 9d. per box. Ask for "Rowland's Odonto."

ROWLAND'S ESSENCE of TYRE never fails to produce immediately a perfect change in red or grey hair, whiskers, eyebrows, &c., to a beautiful glossy and permanent brown or black, which colour remains so durable, that neither washing nor perspiration can remove it. Price 4s., 7s, 6d, and 10s. 6d, per bottle.

All these articles have been used and justly appreciated by all the Sovereigns and Courts of Europe, the Pope of Rome, and the aristocracy of the world, during the last 70 years, being of inestimable value to those who have once used them. They are sold by all chemists, perfumers, and bazaars throughout India, Australia, the Colonies, and South America.
