EDITOR'S TABLE,

The great event of to day 18 the race meeting at Lanus. Everything looked promising for the meeting yesterday—fine weather, thousands of pleasure seckers going, course in prime order, and the contract for the retresh ments given to M. Sempe, of the Cafe de Paris. A jelly pleasant time may be expected by those who elect to pass to day at Lanus. The announcement that the famous Jones Loan has finally burst up, and that the Commissioners are about to return with their pockets as full of emptiness as when they went away, has caused a dazed teeling in the sister city, and it is feared that worse may come of it. The Parisian capitalists would not touch it with a tongs when. honest John Bull 'declined it. The chances now are that this famous Loan will never be floated at all, even if the Law is altered to meet the views of the London men.

Don't forget the cricket match today, at Lomas, between the Buenos Avres and Lomas Clubs, This will probably be the last great match of the season, so lovers of the noble game should not miss the opportunity of seeing it.

The Provincial Bank Board have selected Sunday next for moving into their new premises, and will start fair on Monday morning. We hear a great deal of crowing and tall talk about the magnificence and size of the new P. B. It is very nice, no doubt, and looks big to South American eyes; but it might be stolen from the Bank of Ireland and not missed, this unrivalled building covering fully a square of ground. In mentioning this we have no wish to compare Argentina with Ireland, but it is well Argentines should know that they have not 'licked Creation' yet in the way of a bank building. The Aconcagua's telegrams contain a rather unpleasant announcement to the effect that the ominous Eastern Question is again on the European political chessboard; and Bonapartist demonstrations in France have attracted public attention. The Aconcagua's mails came up yesterday morning, and were delivered in the shades of evening. We give the latest news in another column.

On last Sunday night he stopped in a 'tonda' in the town until about 12 o'clock, and then started for his home, where he arrived safely. His brother was in bed when he went into the room.
