PARIS GOSSIP.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Aug. 1st. There was something at once humorous and satirical in the French Blacks banqueting in honor of the anniversary of their liberty...

When the Minister of Finance, the Abbe Terray, was reproached with taking the gold out of the people's pockets, he retorted, 'where do you wish I should take it?'

An agitation has been set on foot to found a 'moral theatre,' where Christians can take tickets, and capitalists fatigued with receiving dividends, can contribute to lay up a little where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt.

Much discussion is taking place relative to the strange decree which changes the name of the college 'Condorcet' to that of 'Fontanes'.
